Break In 17,000 Acre-Feet Dam Threatens Colorado Town, Farms

CAPULIN, Colo. (AP) — Bulldozers tore dirt from a mountainside Thursday to plug a house-sized hole in a crumbling terrace reservoir dam.

A break in the 17,000-acre-foot dam would send a wall of water roaring into this town of 300 and farms below Alamosa Creek Canyon in southwest Colorado.

Rain which fell during the day handicapped workers and added to pressure on the 45-year-old earthen dam.

Residents of this town took safety on high ground. Part of Lajara's residents had fled and others were poised to evacuate, Mayor Raymond W. Braidon said.

He estimated about 1,000 persons, including farmers in the valley, were in the path of a flood if the dam should give way.

All have been given ample warning, he said.

Five bulldozers ripped at the nearby mountainside and pushed dirt into the reservoir along the upstream face of the dam.

Leak Near Valve House

Braidon said the leak was near the valve house toward the south end of the structure. This hole, he added, is about 50 feet below the water line.

Valves have been opened to permit water to escape at a maximum 1,000 cubic feet a second.

Acting Gov. Frank Hays of Colorado flew to the scene from Denver.

Hays returned to Denver late in the afternoon and said he believes the dam will hold.

He said the hole originally appeared "large enough to put a house in."

All Night Watch

A crew will be kept at the dam-site all night, he said, to watch for any new break.

Braidon said he thought any flood waters would start spreading over wide areas of lowland by the time they reached Lajara. He said that town's 900 population would receive probably two hours warning after a break and Capulin about one.

Cliff Edwards, Alamosa newspaperman, said the dam, backing up 17,000-acre-feet of water, has been under pressure for almost a month as a record snowpack melted in the mountains. There was a sudden increase of pressure following an upstream cloudburst Wednesday night.

Both Capulin and Lajara are in Conejos County. Capulin is 22 miles and Lajara 14 miles south of Alamosa in southwest Colorado.

Report Saudi Rearms Entrance To Gulf Of Aqaba

CAIRO (AP)—The newspaper Al Kahira reported from Jidda Thursday that Saudi Arabia has begun fortifying the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba.

The Gulf is Israel's only means of access from the Red Sea to its growing port of Elate. Egyptian gun positions at the entrance were silenced by the Israelis in their invasion of Sinai last fall and the old gun sites have been under observation of the U. N. Emergency Force.

Israel shipping recently has used the Gulf without being molested.

Al Kahira is the Cairo newspaper considered to have access to the most reliable sources in the Saudi government. Its Jidda report said the Saudis are placing guns at the Gulf entrance "since Israel has not stopped its acts of provocation in those waters" despite seven Saudi protests to the United Nations.

Mailboxes in Sweden are made of plastic instead of metal.

Judge Rejects Plea For Acquittal In Segregation Trial

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — U. S. Dist. Judge Robert L. Taylor Thursday rejected an emotion-charged plea for a directed verdict of acquittal based on a defense contention that if the Clinton segregation trial went to the jury it would become a "cause celebre."

U. S. Dist. Atty. John C. Crawford Jr. argued that the evidence shows the remaining 10 Clinton defendants met again and again with New Jersey-born segregation leader John Kasper, 27, and conspired with him to violate a federal anti-violence injunction.

"No formal agreement is necessary to constitute a conspiracy if it is shown that the defendants acted in concert," Crawford said. The defense motion was based on contentions the government had failed in its efforts to link the numerous defendants in a common conspiracy.

In a lengthy ruling, Taylor said he had already overruled the defense on points of law, submitted in pretrial briefs, and now the "questions of fact" must be considered by the jury.

He said in his 25-minute summation he felt the government had presented evidence that the accused had violated his injunction against interference with court-ordered integration of Clinton High School. The defendants are charged with criminal contempt.

Before the day's session began, defense lawyer Grover S. McLeod of Birmingham, Ala., told newsmen he had brought his family to Knoxville and rented a house "for the duration." He predicted that if Taylor denied the motion for a verdict of acquittal, the trial would last an additional six weeks.

The defense is reported to have more than 80 witnesses under subpoena but there is considerable doubt whether the full list will be called.

In addition, it was doubtful that any of the defendants will be called to testify. Kasper told newsmen he does not expect to take the witness stand.

U.S. ADC Armed With A-Rockets

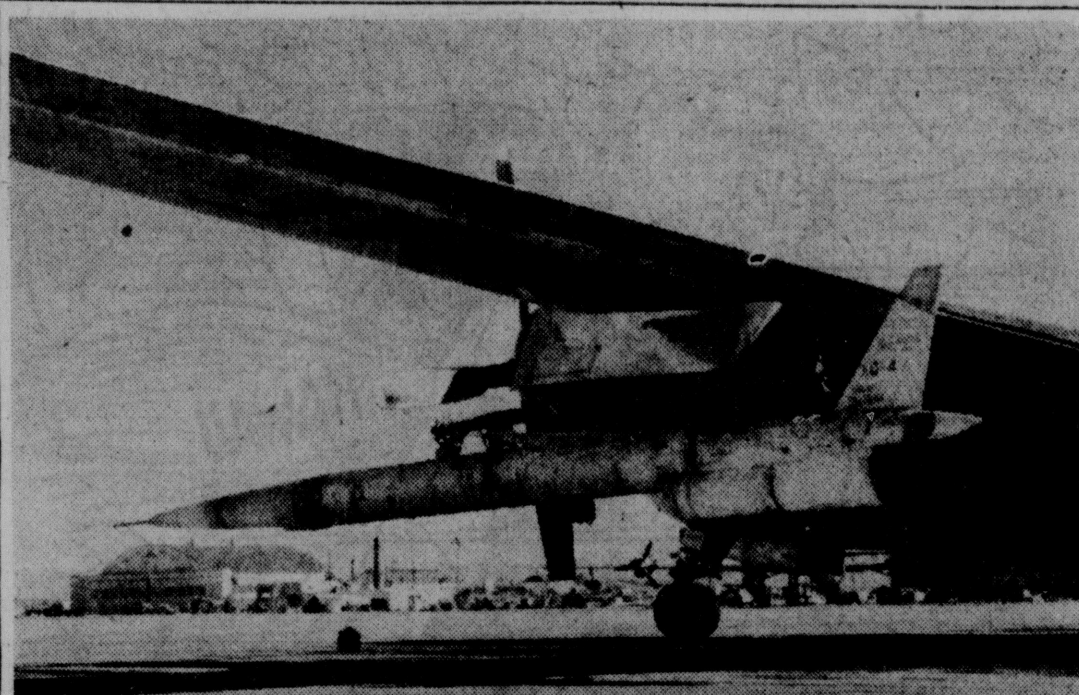

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—The U. S. Air Defense Command is armed with atomic air-to-air rockets of the type scheduled to be test-fired Friday, Lt. Gen. J. H. Atkinson said Thursday.

Gen. Atkinson, commander of the ADC, said the rocket gives his force its greatest "kill capability" in protecting the United States and deterring war.

Gen. Atkinson held a briefing session in advance of the first test of an atomic rocket from a plane—scheduled for 7 a.m. Friday.

The bride, former Donna Sue Nichols, and Turner were wed June 17. The license showed her age at 15, but state birth records proved her to be ten. Missouri law prohibits marriage of persons under 15 without court order. (NEA Telephoto)

SUPERSONIC TARGET DRONE—Shown mounted on the wing of a B-50 launch aircraft, the U. S. Air Force XQ-4 supersonic target drone is undergoing flight test operations at Holloman Air Force Base, N.M. The XQ-4, developed by Radioplane Company, is air launched and is recoverable by parachute. Powered by a turbojet engine, it is radar controlled and has a ceiling in excess of 60,000 feet. Its primary mission is as a target drone for the evaluation of air defense systems but it can carry a payload sufficient to accommodate special tracking, scoring and photographic or television reconnaissance installations. The fuselage of the XQ-4 is approximately 35 feet long and approximately 2 feet in diameter. The wing span is approximately 12 feet.

Europe Bound Airliner Radios Bomb Aboard -- Returns Safely

BOSTON (AP) — An Air France transatlantic liner, bound for Europe, radioed Thursday night she had a bomb aboard, then turned back and landed safely at Logan Airport here.

The liner, out of New York's Idlewild Airport, came down at 10:43 p.m. (EDT).

She was believed to have a capacity load, about 70 passengers.

Two Coast Guard aircraft out of Salem, Mass., and Quonset Point, R. I., intercepted her about 80 miles east of Cape Cod and escorted her the rest of the way to Boston.

The Coast Guard said the liner was "well east of the Texas Tower," or about 140 miles off Cape Cod, when she swung back. The Texas Tower, an Air Force radar installation, is on Georges Bank about 100 miles east of the Cape.

After landing, the plane was kept at the far end of the landing strip—away from the administration building.

FBI, Massachusetts state police and customs men hastened to search it.

The Coast Guard, lacking definite details of the assumed bomb hazard, prepared for any eventualities. Surface craft in the Boston area from Nahant north of Logan Airport to Provincetown on Cape Cod were alerted.

When the big transport landed at Logan Airport, police hustled the passengers off giving them time only to snatch small personal belongings.

The passengers, estimated to total about 70, were led away from the craft and a search was (Continued on Page 11)

Dulles Offers To Ease Travel Ban To Red China

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles offered Thursday to ease a government ban on travel to Red China to allow "a limited number" of newsmen to go there for a six-month trial period.

Dulles' offer, however, clearly failed to satisfy five news executives who discussed the problem with him for 95 minutes.

They insisted that Dulles should not seek to limit the number of reporters who visit Red China to report first-hand to the American people.

The main result of the meeting was a State Department decision to check with American newspapers, news services, magazines, and radio-television organizations to find out how many want to send reporters to Red China.

This survey was decided upon after a disagreement developed in the meeting over the number of reporters who would want to go behind the Bamboo Curtain.

Dulles was quoted as believing "everybody will be trooping over there." William Dwight, president of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn., who attended the meeting, said the news executives disagreed with this Dulles view.

"Economies will be an automatic check," Dwight said.

Dulles made his offer "in principle" to allow some newsmen to travel to Red China.

Ferry Carries Aga Khan's Body To 'Land Of Setting Sun'

ASWAN, Egypt (AP) — The body of Aga Khan III was ferried across the Nile Thursday night for burial in "the land of the setting sun."

His coffin, wrapped in white linen, was flown from Switzerland to Cairo, transferred to a smaller plane for the 500-mile flight to this sleepy resort of the ancient Egyptians, placed aboard a red fire truck and carried to a barge for the trip to the Nile's west bank.

The Begum, beautiful French widow of the Ismaili Moslem leader who died in Switzerland last Thursday, was weeping at every point of the journey, and appeared near collapse when the funeral party reached Aswan, where she and the Aga had spent many happy winters in a hilltop villa.

With only a secretary and ladies-in-waiting, she kept vigil Thursday night with the body of her husband.

Karim, the 20-year-old grandson and Harvard undergraduate who succeeded the old Aga as the religious ruler of the world's 20 million Ismaili Moslems, and Prince Aly Khan, the Aga's son, returned to the Cataract Hotel on the east bank.

Aswan baked in 107-degree heat as the funeral party arrived in a chartered Egyptian airliner. Waiting were more than 300 Ismaili followers from points as distant as the Belgian Congo and Burma.

Aswan's narrow streets were flanked by small boys and women in black, and the bank of the Nile where the barge was moored was jammed with crowds.

The funeral procession, consisting of the barge, a houseboat carrying the family, and smaller boats with newsmen and visitors was stopped by the Begum when it was halfway across the Nile.

She asked that a motor boat she and her husband had used on their visits here be brought to transport the flowers, including a nine-foot wreath sent by Egyptian President Nasser.

It took officials half an hour to find the boat.

When the party arrived at the one-story, green and white villa, workmen were busy constructing a temporary brick tomb in a corner of the courtyard where the body will be buried Friday after services at the Aswan Mosque. A permanent mausoleum will be constructed later.

Aswan, once a city of splendor nestled in the lush green of the Nile Valley amid a rim of red hills. Ancient Egyptians who built their homes on the east bank here buried their dead on the west bank in what they called the "land of the setting sun," or "land of the dead."

The Sun-Times said the "way to freedom for both men was cleared" as the Illinois Pardon and Parole Board met Thursday at Springfield.

Gov. William G. Stratton is reported to have decided already to reduce Leopold's prison term to about 64 years, the newspaper said. Under a 64-year term, the 32-year-old convict would be eligible for immediate parole.

Leopold was originally sentenced to 99 years, but a commutation several years ago reduced the term to 83 years.

The five board members have decided to recommend parole, the Sun-Times reported.

In an editorial which referred to its story, the Sun-Times said "Leopold has been rehabilitated," and added:

"If the governor acts on the basis of the facts as they are known to us and the public, we are sure he will grant Leopold the access to freedom that the pardon board has recommended. Stratton was in Washington, and neither he nor members of the board were immediately available for comment on the newspaper story.

The Sun-Times said, however, the governor is following legal procedure and will not act until he received the board's recommendations. It added that "only a complete reversal" by the board and an "entirely new appraisal" by Stratton would change the planned course of action.

In Springfield, Stratton's administrative assistant, William W. Downey, said, "Any story about what the governor is going to do in the Leopold case is purely speculative at this time."

Men, Led By Salah el Din, Were Rounded Up In April

CAIRO (AP) — The Egyptian Middle East news agency said Thursday night 14 men led by former Foreign Minister Salah el Din have been arrested and charged with plotting to kill President Nasser and his Cabinet.

The announcement amounted to official confirmation of a story known for several weeks and published abroad recently but given no public mention here until Thursday night. A military court has been set up to try the defendants.

The men were rounded up in April just before they were reported ready to spring an armed invasion of Nasser's government offices during a Cabinet session, assassinate the entire group and take over the government.

Jet Trainer Explodes; 2 Flyers Are Killed, Six Houses Set Afire

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — A jet trainer plane, spinning out of control, crashed and exploded on a quiet tree-lined residential street Thursday, scattering wreckage which set six houses afire and killed the two flyers aboard.

Although several persons were on the street and housewives were busy in their homes, no civilians were injured.

Two of the houses were badly damaged despite the efforts of occupants to control the flames until firefighters arrived.

The victims were identified by New Hampshire Air National Guard officials as Capt. John F. Murphy Jr., 32, of Worcester, and 1st Lt. Lawrence C. Guild, 26, of Quincy. Both were ANG fliers.

The plane was attached to the 133rd Air National Guard at Grenier Air Force Base, Manchester, N.H. It was one of a flight of three on a training mission.

Witnesses told of the plane bouncing "as high as a house" before exploding, spewing flaming fuel over a wide area. The craft was seen "rolling and circling" before it pitched earthward in a wild spin.

Brig. Gen. Francis B. McSwiney, adjutant of the New Hampshire ANG, said it was the first accident for the organization in 100 years.

Mail carrier Frieland C. Peltier stood waiting for a bus opposite one of the houses which was set afire moments later.

"The roar as the plane came down was terrific," he said. (Continued on Page 11)

SC99 To Be Sold To Highest Bidder

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The SC99, world's largest land based plane, has been declared excess and will be sold to the highest bidder, the Air Force announced Thursday.

The cargo plane will be put on sale after it goes through reclamation at Kelly Air Force Base for the removal of classified equipment. Rising operating costs and difficulty of logistical support were given as the reasons for retiring the XC99.

Air Force officials said that because it was the only plane of its kind ever built it required special parts and that the cost of those parts increased as the plane aged.

Since it was accepted by the Air Force in 1950, crews at Kelly have flown it 1,486,000 miles equal to 59 trips around the world. It is 180 feet long, has a wingspread of 230 feet and stands 57 feet high.

Miss U.S.A. Wins Title In Rags To Riches Style

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — A slim-stemmed blonde brunette completed with 32 foreign beauties in the Miss Universe contest Friday night after winning the Miss United States title rags-to-riches style.

Statuesque Leona Mary Gage, 21-year-old model who came here as Miss Maryland, had but $2 to her name when she was named loveliest of 44 American entrants.

The field in the international beauty contest was cut to 15 Wednesday night and Miss Universe will be named Friday night.

Miss Gage—at 5 feet 9 inches—the tallest Miss U.S.A. ever—weighs 118 and has these vital statistics: 36-23-36. She has clear hazel eyes. She is regal, quiet—even somewhat aloof. And she's "not man-struck—I'm not marrying until I'm 26."

The raven-haired queen with the glowing smile won with a "go-for-broke" gamble involving her pretty 24-year-old cousin and a $45 gown.

Two months ago, she and her cousin Barbara Gage, with whom she lives in the Baltimore suburb of Glen Burnie, pooled their savings of $45 so Leona could buy a dress to enter the contest. They found one marked down from $90 to $45 and bought it—and Leona won.

Leona's father is dead and her mother is now Mrs. Walter Briggs of Dallas.

Miss Gage's financial worries are over for a while. Her prizes as Miss U.S.A. include a $2,000 contract to tour for a cosmetics firm, and a house trailer.

Before he was named to the U. S. Supreme Court in 1939, Justice William O. Douglas was chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Solons Hear Clashing Views On Cigarettes And Cancer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The argument over the relationship between cigarette smoking and lung cancer was renewed Thursday before a congressional committee.

Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond of the American Cancer Society testified "the evidence is overwhelming that cigarette smoking is a causative factor of great importance in the occurrence of lung cancer."

"This does not imply," he added, "that smoking is the only cause of lung cancer."

Much of Dr. Hammond's testimony was based on a previously published report that he and Dr. Daniel Horn made to the American Medical Assn. last month.

Reporting on an American Cancer Society study, he said that "We found lung cancer death rates to be extremely low among non-smokers and high among heavy cigarette smokers, the rates increasing with the amount of cigarette smoking."

Dr. Hammond also testified he was of the opinion that cigarette smoking appears to increase the likelihood of heart and arterial disease.

Dr. Little, chairman of the tobacco industry group's scientific advisory board, testified that research findings "disprove a single, simple striking cause and effect relationship between cigarette smoking and lung cancer."

Chairman Blatnik (D-Minn.) told reporters in advance of the hearing that manufacturers may be "kidding" the public about the value of filters. He estimated that smokers are paying from $500,000 to $800,000 a year extra for filter "protection" or about two cents per pack of cigarettes.

Dr. Salah el Din, the ex-foreign minister named as the brains of the alleged plot, was to become premier and Abdel Fattah Haseen, former defense minister, was to become interior minister if the plot succeeded, the agency reported.

Nine former officers and five civilians are in the accused group.

Report Confessions

The agency said constant questioning since their arrest has brought confessions from the group that it had a secret military organization planning to accomplish the invasion of Nasser's office and carry off the mass assassination.

The former officers' activities tipped off the plot, it was claimed.

Salah el Din, a specialist in foreign affairs throughout his professional career, is considered one of Egypt's most able legal minds.

Split With Nasser

He has split with Nasser on several political questions, including opposition to independence for Sudan, and he refused to go along with U.N. condemnation of North Korea as an aggressor in 1950. He has vowed a hundred years war to destroy Israel.

The exposure of alleged plotting to seize the government by violence came as the Nasser regime prepared to celebrate the anniversary of the revolutionary uprising of July 23-26, 1952, that deposed and exiled King Farouk.

Rumors in the past few weeks have indicated that an announcement of arrests might take an anti-American line in attempting to place blame for plotting on the United States.

Thursday night's preliminary announcement did not mention any foreign powers involved in the plot, however.

Settle Strike Against Railway Express Agency

NEW YORK (AP) — An 88-day Teamsters strike against the Railway Express Agency in seven major cities was settled Thursday.

The settlement was announced by Francis A. O'Neill, chairman of the National Mediation Board.

He said that some 3,500 teamsters will return to work at 12:01 a.m. Monday in Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Newark, Philadelphia, St. Louis and San Francisco.

Embargoes on shipments to the seven cities directly affected and adjacent areas were lifted immediately.

The strike started April 21. Terms of the new contract provide for a total wage increase of 29 cents an hour for the drivers. This includes 15 cents now retroactive to Jan. 16, 1956, when the old contract expired, 7 cents next Nov. 1, and another 7 cents on Nov. 1, 1958. The contract also contains an escalator clause.

The union had sought an increase of 30 cents an hour; pre-strike wages ranged from $1.56 to $2.21 an hour.

Costly Salute

Gen. Nathan Twining, retiring as Air Force Chief of Staff to become chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, has served his country long and well, in and out of battle. He deserves the highest honors—and fitting ceremonial tributes.

In today's high cost age, however, it has become a serious question whether those tributes in his or any other case ought to include expensive air displays.

As the general finished his tour of duty, some 260 jet fighters and bombers whooshed over Maryland's Andrews Air Force base in salute. Senator Chavez, New Mexico, says this parting compliment cost the government—and the taxpayer — $400,000 just for fuel alone.

Since a B-52 jet bomber consumes enough fuel in 10 minutes to power a moderate priced automobile for 100,000 miles, this seems believable enough. And to this must of course be added all the other expenses incidental to the demonstration—to say nothing of possible crashes, with loss of valuable pilots and expensive aircraft.

Fly-overs are impressive stuff, but it might be wise if hereafter we relied a little more on old-fashioned words and handshakes. They're a good deal cheaper, and can be just as sincere as 260 jets.

F.B.I. And The Supreme Court

Of all the recent decisions by the Supreme Court on individual rights, the one of most concern to the government is the Jencks case ruling giving defendants in criminal and espionage cases certain access to F.B.I. files.

The court's decision said that where defense counsel is seeking to attack the credibility of witnesses it may search the files looking for discrepancies between information supplied to the F.B.I. and sworn testimony in the courtroom.

Mindful of the F.B.I.'s long-standing insistence that much of its police work would be hampered if it were forced to disclose confidential sources of information, methods of procedure and the like, the Supreme Court said the government would have to take its choice between showing the files or not prosecuting.

Reports from the capital say the F.B.I. is threatening to drop out of such cases altogether rather than permit examination of its files by defendants.

The administration is meantime advancing legislation designed to give trial judges the authority to decide in secret what part if any of F.B.I. reports should be allowed to the defense. Without action on some such measure, a good share of the government's work in criminal prosecution seems to stand in danger.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (P)—One of the great delights of growing up when the world was young—I keep telling myself, now that the world is old—was getting secret mail.

Every adult is sure in his heart he did something when young that no one else ever did before or since.

One of the things I am sure of in my heart is that, as a child, I must have been responsible for the fact the U. S. Post Office ran so deeply in debt to the public. Certainly it complains to this day that the stamps it sells don't buy it out of the red ink.

Looking back now, I find it hard to figure just why I went overboard for secret mail. I think that basically, as one of the junior citizens in a seven-member family in a one-bedroom house, I was reaching for some kind of privacy.

If so, I never got it. My private mail got to be pretty public in our neighborhood. The mere size of it was hard to hide on a street where a postcard from out of town signed by a stranger would stir more lives than the influenza.

Since nobody had ever written to me in my lifetime, I decided to write to them first.

The magazines of that day—as some still are to this day—were full of advertisements which invited correspondence. Once I started answering these invitations I hardly knew where to quit.

Opportunity didn't seem to knock at one's door. It merely waited the lick of a two-cent stamp.

I began by deciding I wanted to be a ventriloquist. My mind was made up by seeing an ad which showed a man carrying a heavy box on his shoulder, and a muffled voice supposedly from the box startled bystanders by calling:

"Let me out!"

Naturally the voice came from a ventriloquist on the sidewalk, not having fun. The idea of being able to do this appealed to me. Ben (it still does), and I spent at least 12 cents in stamps investigating the price of becoming a ventriloquist by mail. The cost came to more than I could afford at the time, but even now when I pass someone carrying a trunk I always halt and murmur, "Let me out!" Fortunately, no one pays any attention.

This has gone on for so many years that in my own mind I have reached the conclusion it's not a matter of ventriloquism at all.

Other invitations I explored by mail were how-to-build-yourself-from-a-skinny-joke-at-the-beach into-a-muscular-man-who-could-whip-any-bully-how-to-become-an-electrical-engineer-in-12-easy-shocks-how-to-grow-chinchillas-for-profit-in-grandfather's-beard-during-the-unesayum m e r months-and-how-to-make-quick-money-by-selling-Christmas-cards-to-the-neighbors-just-before-Easter.

The postman got interested in some of these situations himself. I remember the day I got the reply to the ad saying send-one-dollar-and-receive-12-different-pictures-of-12-beautiful-girls-in-12-different-poses. The postman opened that letter himself, looked at the enclosed pictures (harmless photos of old movie stars), sighed in disappointment, and marched bravely forward on his rounds.

This whole golden age of youth collapsed when my mother intercepted the reply to an ad on how any girl can develop bigger busts-in-the-privacy-of-her-own-home. Mama tore up that letter, and to this day I wonder what it said.

House Group in Key Look At Supreme Court Rulings

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (P)—One of the most important congressional investigations this year may be the House Judiciary subcommittee study of the effects of recent Supreme Court decisions.

Recommendations for far-reaching amendments to tighten up existing federal law may be made in these fields:

The rules of criminal procedure for police and courts.

The control of subversive activities under the Smith Act, which makes it a crime to advocate overthrow of the U.S. government by force and violence.

The right of Congress to compel witnesses to testify on matters that do not directly relate to legislative functions.

The right of an accused person to demand access to full Federal Bureau of Investigation files if any evidence in those files is to be used in testimony against him.

A bill to permit the attorney general to withhold part of the files in criminal cases has already been reported out to the House and is now before the Senate Judiciary committee.

THERE STILL REMAINS the larger field of how evidence from the FBI files may be used in civil cases. These would include federal tax collection suits and civil contempt actions.

The Supreme Court raised all these issues in its recent decisions in the now famous Mallory, Jencks, Watkins and the five freed California Communist cases.

House inquiry of these matters will be unusual in many respects. The men responsible for these decisions—the Supreme Court justices—cannot be called as witnesses. They might volunteer to appear. But none ever has and probably none will.

Any defense of the recent Supreme Court opinions will be up to organizations like American Civil Liberties Union or volunteer liberal lawyers.

There is an even more serious question. The Supreme Court acted to protect civil liberties guaranteed by the Constitution. So what will be the constitutional validity of any laws now passed by Congress to set aside the effects of these decisions?

This will put the burden of testimony for new legislation on Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr., U.S. state, local prosecuting and law enforcement officials.

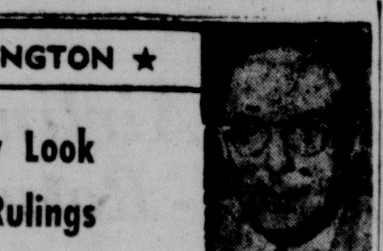

The House committee making this investigation is worth a look. All are lawyers. Its chairman is Edwin E. Willis Jr., (D-La.) 52.

Manners Make Friends

Don't ask a person to hold the telephone "a second" while you answer the door or see what Johnny wants. It's much better to ask if you may call back for the "second" sometimes takes five minutes.

And that's a long time for anyone to hold the phone.

now serving his fifth term in Congress.

THE TWO DEMOCRATS are Earl Chudoff, 50, a Philadelphia lawyer, and Byron G. Rogers, 57, of Denver, a former city, county and state attorney and a former assistant U.S. attorney.

The two Republicans are both first timers. They are Arch A. Moore, 34, of West Virginia and William C. Cramer, 35, a Harvard law man, former county attorney and the first Republican to be elected to Congress from Florida since 1875.

Rep. Cramer was co-sponsor, with Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (N.Y.) of the resolution to start the investigation.

The Supreme Court decisions in all the cases mentioned have already been subject to misinterpretation by the lower courts, says Rep. Cramer. All criminal procedure and law enforcement have been placed in jeopardy. He therefore sees this as an emergency situation on which there should be corrective action by this session of Congress.

The House will have plenty of time to go into these matters while the Senate is filibustering on the Eisenhower civil rights program. But there is some doubt whether the Senate will have time to consider any new legislation, as thoroughly as it needs to be studied, before Congress adjourns.

THERE IS A FURTHER risk here in that introduction of corrective legislation may open the doors to many extreme amendments, such as limitation of Supreme Court justices' terms and congressional review of the court's decisions.

Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-S.C.) has even proposed to ban the court from hearing appeals on cases involving public schools.

There is an even more serious question. The Supreme Court acted to protect civil liberties guaranteed by the Constitution. So what will be the constitutional validity of any laws now passed by Congress to set aside the effects of these decisions?

In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (P)—Danny Kaye remarks sadly that aspiring comedians today have "no place to be lousy."

In the old days there were burlesque, small-time vaudeville and big-time vaudeville. Now a newcomer goes on television—and has to be good.

"Or he's told, 'you'll never have it,'" the comic continued.

"There's less opportunity than ever to develop a number of sides of your talent."

"Suppose you wanted to be a doctor. You wouldn't wake up some morning, go to a hospital and say, 'I've decided I want to be a doctor. Give me a scalpel.'"

Comedy also requires a lot of training, but said Danny, "A lot of newcomers don't realize it's an art, a profession, and you have to study hard."

Kaye, himself, Brooklyn-born, has "done everything in show business you could do"—except TV. That included summer-resort entertaining, traveling show, night clubs, vaudeville, Broadway, radio.

DR. SHELTON REMEMBERED

TOPEKA, Kan. (P)—A centennial celebration of the birth of Dr. Charles M. Sheldon, author of "In His Steps" is being held this year in many churches around the world.

Dr. Sheldon wrote the celebrated international best-seller while minister of Central Congregational Church here in Topeka. More than 30 million copies have been sold. A great humanitarian, Dr. Sheldon believed in sharing American surplus with the needy overseas.

In 1900 he was instrumental in raising $100,000 dollars to relieve a famine in India.

He died here at 88, still trying to provide comfort for the suffering.

COOL NOTE

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (P)—With the temperature at 98 degrees recently, Paul E. Zimmerman, a Missouri Highway Department engineer, reported an ample supply of cinders had been collected to spread on icy highways in this area next winter.

Birthstone of January is the garnet.

Everybody has to go through a painful learning process," he advised. "There are a lot of talented comedians around. But if they don't develop, they'll find they're not going ahead."

Even for veterans, however, he is against "overexposure." If he ever goes on television, it won't be often than once a month.

"Only a few can go on week after week and not have their work deteriorate. Mr. (Jack) Benny is a prime example of one who can. He'll go on for a hundred years. All of his experience has accumulated into a rounded character."

To avoid overexposure on the screen, Kaye never has made more than one picture a year. His current "Merry Andrew" is his 12th in 14 years.

He said he devoted almost all of last year to UNICEF—the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund. As its ambassador at large he visited hospitals, nutritional centers and child aid organizations from England to Nigeria and from Spain to Israel.

"I get tremendous satisfaction out of it," he said.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower's civil rights bill starts out on crutches. Southern Democrats already have done it damage and thus have won part of their fight against it.

They have convinced a growing number of non-Southern senators that this measure goes too far and needs toning down through amendments, even though many of them appear willing to vote for some kind of civil rights bill.

Southerners want it amended until it's toothless. Even if they get that, they may try to filibuster it to death. Their leaders have said their aim is to kill it.

For more than a week they argued against even letting the bill come up for consideration. They were outvoted on that Tuesday. Now the real fight begins, for today the bill itself is before the Senate where it can be amended.

Eisenhower backed the bill again after the vote, asking that it be passed without major changes. A small number of the bill's supporters—like Senators Douglas (D-Ill.), Javits (R-N.Y.), Potter (R-Mich.), McNamara (D-Mich.)—oppose compromise.

But Sen. Gore, Tennessee Democrat who broke with his fellow Southerners at least temporarily by voting Tuesday night to bring up the bill for debate, has said: "I don't think there are 10 senators left who want the bill as it stands."

He's been talking with some of his colleagues about drafting a complete substitute. And Tuesday night immediately after the vote to bring up the bill, Sen. Anderson (D-Mich.) offered an amendment to knock out the bill's No. 3 section.

Of the four sections in the bill it's No. 3 which has annoyed the Southerners most. Under No. 3 the attorney general could move in against a wide variety of civil rights violations, not just cases involving voting rights.

Anderson's fellow Democrat from New Mexico, Sen. Chavez, is against part of Section No. 4 of the bill.

Under this an individual who disobeyed a judge's order to stop interfering with a Negro's voting efforts could be tried by the judge himself, and jailed for contempt, without jury trial. There is no jury trial requirement, either, for violations under Section 3.

Southerners make big thunder over this too. They argue there must be a jury trial. Chavez supports that. He has taken no part in the squabble so far but says he will not vote for any bill that lacks a jury trial provision.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) suggests the bill be amended to provide a jury trial when issues of fact are involved in voting rights cases. Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.) goes along with that.

He also goes along with Anderson and the Southerners in wanting Section No. 3 wiped out entirely.

Douglas, commenting on the O'Mahoney-Mundt jury trial plan, has said the kind of jury trial amendment they have in mind would wind up meaning a jury trial in all cases involving voting rights.

Sen. Francis Case, Mundt's fellow Republican from South Dakota, announced he was drafting a amendment to limit the enforcement provisions of Eisenhower's bill to voting rights.

If the Southerners have been able to convince this many people in a week's time that the bill needs changing and softening, they ought to do pretty well in the weeks of debate that lie ahead. They've only started fighting.

THEY FORM in some part of the kidney, usually in a sort of open space in that organ known as the kidney pelvis. Generally they grow slowly as the chemical is added to the outside of the stone.

Consequently, symptoms from kidney stones may be absent for years. They are quite often discovered accidentally in observing an X-ray film which may have been taken for some entirely different reason.

There are several kinds of chemicals which can precipitate out of the urine and form stones. If a stone is removed or passes, it should be analyzed carefully to find out its nature so that the proper diet or treatment can be employed in an effort to avoid the formation of additional stones.

ONE OF THE common varieties of stones is made up of what are called oxalates. In this variety of stone formation, one normally cuts down or eliminates those foods which contain a lot of oxalic acid. Among those are rhubarb and eggplant. A full list of oxalate-containing foods should be obtained from the physician.

The greatest trouble with stones usually occurs when they begin to move. Most of them have sharp, ragged edges. As they move down the urinary passages, they cut into the delicate tissues producing bleeding and pain which is likely to be terrific. It may take several injections of morphine or similar drugs before the victim can do anything but twist and turn in agony.

THERE ARE two steps in the treatment of an attack of pain or colic from a kidney stone. The first has to do with the particular stone which is passing. Often the stone passes by itself, but sometimes its passage has to be aided.

The next step is to find out if there are more stones, to analyze chemically the one passed and to advise the patient with regard to diet and other measures.

We know so much about disease and its control that we become baffled by our own knowledge. In fact we seem to take our knowledge for granted.

We frequently fail to apply the knowledge we have.

Every now and then one dies of a simple ailment. The remedy is so easy that we assume there is no danger. We do not use the means which are at our fingertips. We overlook the fact that maladies which can now be cured in a few hours are fatal without the control.

Sin can be corrected quite readily when it is confessed to God. When God is overlooked the same sin corrupts our souls and devastates our lives. Even our daily waywardness requires God's help to make effective changes.

We must keep in constant touch with God lest we allow these sins to claim life and happiness.

Kidney Stones Often Are Discovered Accidentally

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written For NEA Service

Mrs. W. inquires about the treatment of kidney stones and whether they can be dissolved.

It is easiest to answer the second part of the question first. There is no medicine which can be counted on to dissolve a kidney stone safely.

Actually they are not "stones" at all, but are chemical compounds which have crystallized out of the urine because the latter does not hold them in solution and eliminates them in that fashion.

They FORM in some part of the kidney, usually in a sort of open space in that organ known as the kidney pelvis. Generally they grow slowly as the chemical is added to the outside of the stone.

Consequently, symptoms from kidney stones may be absent for years. They are quite often discovered accidentally in observing an X-ray film which may have been taken for some entirely different reason.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

President Eisenhower almost got caught in deep water without a paddle Wednesday when he tried to explain the difficulty of defending democracy against Communist Marshal Zhukov.

Everybody who has ever tried to argue with a sincere Communist or other fanatic can understand what the President meant. It's just like an argument between two people who haven't the slightest knowledge of each other's language.

When the President admits publicly that "Our position" is hard to defend he lays himself open to misconstruction.

Eisenhower was backing away from any effort to sell Zhukov through personal contact, although admitting that such contacts, perhaps between Zhukov and Secretary Wilson, might produce a modicum of better understanding.

The President indicated his main difficulty was when Zhukov said "You tell a person he can do as he pleases, he can act as he pleases, he can do anything. Everything that is selfish in man you appeal to him, and we tell him that he must sacrifice for the state."

Now that isn't so hard to refute, because it just isn't true.

It is true that, during phases of the development of democracy, in order to defend the principle, men have been permitted to do more like some of them please than they should.

But the main theme of democracy is voluntary cooperation for the common welfare.

The main theme of communism is enforced mobilization.

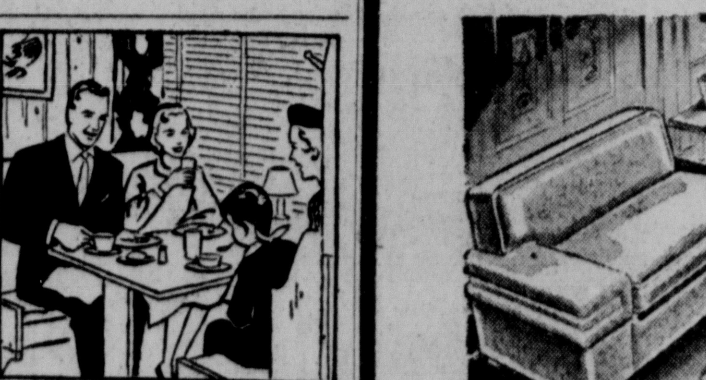

One of the great difficulties of

BILL BRINGS ADDEI $2.3 MILLION U. S. ILLINOIS AID FUND

WASHINGTON (P)—A bill approved by President Eisenhower Wednesday will bring federal welfare payments to Illinois back to the level prior to 1956 amendments to the Social Security Act. That will mean an additional two to three million dollars a year for Illinois in federal matching funds for medical payments under the program of aid to the aged, blind, disabled and to dependent children.

The House-passed version of the bill would have provided an additional 10 to 11 million dollars for Illinois. Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) was unsuccessful in trying to push that version through the Senate.

POLICE CARS STAGE IMPROMPTU RODEO

PITTSBURGH (P)—Using radio scout cars instead of horses, Pittsburgh policemen put on something of a rodeo Wednesday night—and they brought down a 1,400 pound steer which had sent pedestrians and motorists scurrying.

The steer escaped from a truck being unloaded at the Bloomfield Packing Co. Four police cars went in pursuit.

Finally, after a chase of nearly an hour, two policemen maneuvered their autos expertly and pinned the steer against a fence. Ten shots from two revolvers killed the animal and the carcass was hauled off to the slaughterhouse.

Miss Dill, Related In Roodhouse; Married In East

ROODHOUSE—The Presbyterian church in Chestnut Hill formed the setting June 15 for a lovely spring wedding when Miss Ann L. Dill, popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Arthur Dill, 407 E. Wagsworth street, Mount Airy, Pennsylvania and granddaughter of B. F. Dill of Roodhouse, became the bride of Gould B. Donahue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Donahue, 8701 Cheltenham Ave.,

Chestnut Hill. The Rev. Joseph McCabe, D.D., pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. It was a small family wedding with a reception at the Flourtown branch of the Philadelphia Cricket Club. Miss Miriam McDewitt, Chestnut Hill, was maid of honor and the bride's only attendant. Dr. Roy Senour, New York, served as best man. There were no ushers. After a 10-day Bermuda honeymoon, the couple will live in Chestnut Hill. The bridegroom attended Chestnut Hill Academy and Yale University.

The bride's father graduated from the Roodhouse schools. DEFENSE WITNESS WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—A dog named Blackie appeared as a witness in Criminal Court here. His silence helped get his owner an acquittal on charges of keeping a vicious dog. Blackie was led into the courtroom on a leash and let go. He scampered over to his mistress, wagging his tail. There were no barks. Acquittal came less than an hour later. Defense witnesses said other dogs attracted to Blackie's home had been responsible for most of the barking neighbors complained about.

ALTAR SOCIETY AT ARENZVILLE PLANS FOOD, BAKE SALE ARENZVILLE—The St. Fidelis Altar Society met at the home of Mrs. Albert Kolberer on Thursday evening. Mrs. Frances Hobrock presided and the meeting opened with prayer. Mrs. James Zillion read the minutes of the preceding meeting, and the communications. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. William Jones. Plans were made for a Market and Bake sale to be held on July 27. Mrs. Floyd Parks was welcomed as a new member of the society. The meeting closed with the song "To Jesus Heart All Burning."

Devotions were read by Mrs. Robert Clark. During the social hour a contest was won by Miss Anna Herbert. The remainder of the evening was spent completing a scrapbook for Our Saviour's Hospital at Jacksonville. Refreshments were served by the hostess. RED HANDED MILWAUKEE (AP)—The culprits who raided a paint store were caught redhanded—and greenhanded. Investigating officers followed trickles of paint from the warehouse, through an alley and into a yard where they found a dozen boys with green and red paint on their hands and their clothing and some on the bicycles they sought to decorate with their loot.

4-H Club Activities

The fifth meeting of the New Happy Workers 4-H club was held July 12 at the home of Doris DeGroot. The meeting was called to order by Betty Wohler, president. Roll call was given by telling something that had been done on the Fourth of July. The minutes of the previous meeting were read.

Lois Cromwell read a story about Flip, the Colt with Wings. Darlene Hacker gave talk on a trip she took; Harriett Freith gave a demonstration on Tools You Use To Sew; Betty Wohlers and Lois Cromwell, Snake Bite and How to Treat It; Doris DeGroot, Thelma Wohlers, and Harriett Freith, Sun Stroke and How to Treat It.

Mrs. Newbery read letters about achievement day. Games were played and refreshments were served. The meeting was then adjourned.

The Jolly Juniors met July 15 at Janet Hurrelbrink's home, according to Donna Chrisman, reporter. Janet Hurrelbrink, president of the club, presided at the meeting.

Business items taken up included: What to take to the 4-H Show and what time to be there. The program consisted of talks by: Sue Welsh on "How to Fry Chicken;" Beverly Welsh on "Baste Stitching;" Donna Chrisman on her week at 4-H camp.

Demonstrations were given by: Janet Hurrelbrink on "How to Make Pop Corn in an Electric Fry Pan" and Judy Hurrelbrink on "How to Prepare Doughnuts in a Fry Pan." Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Mary Hurrelbrink, Mrs. Joyce Hurrelbrink and Mrs. Fern Welsh.

ROODHOUSE—Tommy Barlow, reporter for the Town and Country 4-H club, states that the July meeting of the club was held at the Washington school and in the absence of the president, Barbara Johnisee, one of the leaders Mrs. Robert Dickinson, presided. John Bill Barnett gave a talk on "How to Take Care of a Hereford Calf before the Fair"; Joe Hopkins and Bill Gilmore talked on "Stocking a Pond." The leaders, Mrs. Dickinson and Emert Johnisee, reported that the club had won a free camping trip by having the greatest enrollment increase. The award was made through the Farm Bureau.

The Murrayville Merry Maids held their monthly meeting in the American Legion Hall. The meeting was called to order by the president and the pledges were read by Kathy Wright.

The minutes were read and the roll call was answered. A song, "Home On The Range," was sung by the group.

The business meeting was conducted. Demonstrations were given by Karen Strang, Becky Bealmeier, Nancy Heaton, Mary Andras and Diana Garfield.

Talks were given by Carla Heaton and others. Several musical selections were given by Sandra Crow, Mary Sandidge and Mary Andras and Diana Garfield.

The meeting was adjourned to refreshments and recreation.

BID FROM CEYLON

NEW YORK (AP)—The World Council of Churches has been invited to hold its next assembly, in 1960, in Ceylon.

Churchmen view this as evidence of the key place the World Council is assuming in the younger churches of Asia.

The World Council effects world-wide coordination of its members in the field of inter-church aid.

It carries the responsibility for the international phase of the churches' assistance to refugees. In 1956 the World Council resettled 28,459 refugees from Europe and Asia, a record figure.

The Council also helps struggling Protestant minorities in various parts of the world. It is deeply concerned with keeping churches in Communist countries from being isolated from Christians in the free world.

The membership now includes 165 denominations in 50 countries.

LIGHTNING KILLS TWO

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Lightning killed a woman and her sister Wednesday as they gathered clothes from a clothesline during a severe rainstorm.

Mrs. Earl Baker, 27, and her sister, Sarah Coker, 11, were killed.

The fire department reported 18 fires ignited by lightning in a 20-minute period.

The eggs came before the chicken, reports the National Geographic Society. Birds are an offshoot of reptile stock that was laying eggs millions of years before the first bird appeared.

Chandlerville Club Studies Navajo Artist

CHANDLERVILLE — Miss Jeanette Powell and Mrs. H. B. Norris of Jacksonville were guests Thursday of the Chandlerville Book Club luncheon held at the home of Mrs. Otto Dorr.

At the close of the luncheon hour, Miss Powell gave one of her many program readings from "Spin a Silver Dollar." Then using reproductions of Bealton Yazz's Navajo Tribal Paintings, she followed the career of the timid artist who ventured into a trading post operated by the Lipencotts of Arizona. She followed his progress as he, interested by his white friends in the tribal traditions of his people, became one of the foremost exponents of the native Indian.

Club members present were Mrs. Wayne Pfeil, Miss Mae Almsworth, Miss Julia Force, Miss Eula Rethorn, Miss Clyde Carr, Miss Hattie Davis, Miss Ruth Leeper, Mrs. Cheslea Taylor, and Mrs. Dorr.

Mrs. Norris and Miss Powell assisted at the luncheon table.

Jersey Residence Burns To Ground

JERSEYVILLE — The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Breitweiser near Delhi was completely destroyed by fire about 1:50 p.m. Sunday and practically all the contents were lost. According to reports Mrs. Breitweiser was at work near her home at the time and her husband had lighted the oil stove in preparation for dinner. He went into the back yard for a few minutes and the stove exploded and set the house on fire. There was no telephone in the house and by the time one could be reached and the alarm sent in, the fire had gained great headway. The Jerseyville fire department responded, but the building was practically gone when they arrived.

Charles Mourning of Jerseyville who owns a house nearby permitted Mr. and Mrs. Breitweiser and their four children to occupy that place until permanent arrangements can be made for them. It is understood the Breitweiser house was insured but no insurance was carried on the contents. The family succeeded in removing the washing machine and a few other items but most of the furnishings were burned.

The fire department was called to the Evans home on Walnut street Thursday afternoon to extinguish a burning wood pile back of the residence which was threatening the premises.

Jacksonville children and teachers are "learning by doing" at Lincoln School in classes conducted by the special education departments of MacMurray College and the Jacksonville public schools.

Two Jacksonville civic clubs also cooperated in making the six-week program for teachers possible. Transportation was furnished by the Pilot club in the MacMurray station wagons and milk was furnished by the Business and Professional Women's club.

The pictures were taken in a clinical observation room, in which classes were in session four mornings a week, at the Lincoln school. The course, a three-hour program entitled "Organization and Curriculum for the Educable Mentally Handicapped," provides students the opportunity to observe and develop the best methods for teaching handicapped children.

For example, students experiment through use of music and art in developing eye-hand coordination among the handicapped children. Many visitors from Jacksonville and surrounding communities have watched these activities develop at Lincoln school.

Mrs. Lucille O'Brien, demonstration teacher, is pictured showing two Jacksonville children how to mix paints. Arthur Vier is at left, and holding the bottle at right is Larry Mortimer.

Mrs. Perol Thorn, a member of the Pilot club—which has furnished transportation for the children—is shown above in the MacMurray station wagon, while outside the car, left to right, are: Roy Eddinger, Homer Rogan, Arthur Vier, Rose Ann Rogan, and Linda Wilson.

Each year citizens of the United States read approximately 18 billion, 500 million newspapers.

Home Bureau Activities

The Bluffs Day Unit of Home Bureau entertained the two 4-H clubs which it sponsors, at the local achievement meeting held at the Bluffs Civic Club building. There were 14 members and guests present, and the leaders of St. John and St. John's clubs are as follows: Mrs. Donald Mullen, Mrs. Milo Walker, Mrs. Evelyn Neece, Mrs. Claus Kroencke, and Mrs. Leo Smith. Pledge to the flag and group singing of "America the Beautiful" was followed by a brief business session and appointment of committees.

Members of St. John and St. John Club had a dress review, a demonstration of "Quick Mix White Cake" by Ruthie Selvers, a tap dance by Dixie Frowhitter and Mary Ann Brockhouse, a poem by Sharon Rolf and a box dance by eight members.

Members of Napettes had dress review, and demonstration of "Graham Cracker Pie Crust" by Susan Boes. Flower arrangements were shown.

A solo was given by Mrs. Glen Selvers, accompanied by Mrs. Donald Merris.

Refreshments were served by the refreshment committee of Mesdames Herb Leib, Art Likes, Henry Lawshe, O. J. Merriman, Luther Vortman.

CLASS CONSCIOUS

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (P) A teacher put this sign near a classroom clock at Jefferson Davis Junior High School here: "Time will pass. Will you?"

One look, one ride, and you'll discover more to be proud of in a Chevy. No other low-priced car quite comes up to it for fine finishing touches, right down to the last detail. And you'll take pride in the sweet, smooth and sassy performance.

This one wants you to get choosy about your next car! The fussier you are, the more Chevrolet can show you what it's got right down to the last detail!

Take the solid way a Chevy is built. It's the only car in its field with Body by Fisher—sturdily put together, with a look of substance other cars in its price class haven't quite captured. Everywhere you look, fine finishing touches confirm the craftsmanship that goes into a Chevrolet.

Chevrolet's response and performance are pretty special, too. There's a well-what-are-we-waiting-for spirit in the engine, especially when you show a Chevrolet a mountain. And you'll do a lot of looking to find comparable smoothness, steadiness and nimbleness on the road—at any price! See a Chevrolet at your dealer's now!

SORRY HE SPOKE
DEFUNIAK SPRINGS, Fla. (AP)—Circuit Judge B. Stuart Gillis recommended to the county grand jury that it investigate property assessments.

The grand jury, headed by A. B. Covell, recommended a general reassessment.

The county commissioners Wednesday advertised increased evaluations on properties of Gillis and Covell.

The costs of all accidents in the United States in 1956 were enough to provide three shots of Salk vaccine for every person in the world.

Peoria Man Reports Loss Of 'Jewelry'

A vendor of "junk" costume jewelry left Jacksonville by bus early Thursday morning to return to his home in Peoria after an incident in which he lost 550 pieces of costume jewelry he said was worth $110.

He was Herman Schuemaker, 24, of Peoria.

Schuemaker called city police from the White House cafe on North Main street at 1:15 a.m. Thursday. He said he wanted to report a robbery. Officers Campbell and Quinlan found him there and learned that the robbery occurred about four miles north of Jacksonville. They took him to report to Deputy Wayne Carter and later took him to the bus station to catch a 2:45 a.m. bus.

Enroute To Chester
Schuemaker said that he was hitchhiking late Wednesday, headed to Chester where he expected to sell his jewelry at the fair there. He was picked up by a couple—a rather small man and a very large woman. They told him they were going to Knoxville, Tenn., but that they would take him to Chester if he bought the gas.

Deserted While Sleeping
He agreed. When they were on Route 67, about four miles north of the city, the driver suggested that they pull off to the side of the road and take a nap. All agreed. When he woke up he was all by himself, Schuemaker said.

He was able to pick up another ride, however, and came into town to notify the police.

He described the car as a light blue, newly-painted Dodge sedan with red wheels. He said the man was about 40 years old, 5'8", 140 pounds, light hair and ruddy complexion. He figured the woman was about 28 years old, 6' tall, 250 pounds, dark hair and poorly dressed.

N. Jacksonville Obtains Allan As Soupmaker

Joseph Leiber, principal of North Jacksonville school, has announced arrangements complete for the school sponsored Big Burgo to be held Saturday, Sept. 14, at the school.

Clifford (Junior) Allan of Winchester has been obtained to make the burgo. Mr. Allan is known as one of the finest burgo makers in the country. Soup will be sold by containers from the kettle only starting at 11 a.m. Prices start at twenty-five cents a pint up to two dollars per gallon. Plans are to make more than 400 gallons of burgo.

The school is one mile north of Jacksonville on route 67. The serving of burgo soup in the area is most popular and is now expanding into new territory. The famed soup is made from a secret formula handed down from generation to generation in the Allan family.

People who have never tried the soup will find a treat in 'good eating.'

By 'kettle service only' with patrons bringing own containers, the public will have the opportunity to enjoy this fine soup in the privacy and comfort of their own homes.

NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Birdie Tebbetts suggests the addition of a sort of Marquis of Queensberry section to the baseball rules.

"Before there is a disgraceful riot and someone is badly hurt," urges the fiery manager of the Reds, the 50-player brawl at Ebbets Field fresh in his mind. And Tebbetts, along with most of his players, frankly feels the five-way and hot National League race will have a flock of brawls cropping up to remind managers by telegraph that they are responsible for the conduct of players," he says, "but there are no rules covering their behavior, which should be standardized."

"A simple way to end battle royals in ball parks is to forbid anybody to leave the dugout when an argument starts. The penalty should be ejection. The time would come when a manager couldn't field nine players. The game would be forfeited and one or two decisions like that would end baseball brawling for good."

"You say that this would give the club on the field an advantage in a free-for-all scrap. So, confine the war to the original combatants and permit only the four umpires, the two managers and the two coaches on the field to interfere. Anyone else gets the bum's rush for as much as grabbing."

"I'm serious about this. The first thing you know a lot of wild-eyed fans will charge into one of these rubehubs and that one easily might get out of hand."

Another new rule advocated by Tebbetts, Fred Hutchinson of the Cardinals and other managers would permit a pitcher who engages in fistfights to remain in the game provided he did not invite the trouble.

"Unless this is done," points out Tebbetts and Hutchinson, "what's to prevent attacking players from getting rid of a pitcher who has them stopped cold? All one of them has to do is provoke a fight with the pitcher—call him a name, punt a ball down the first base line and ram into the pitcher or whatnot."

Tebbetts solemnly believes that Raul Sanchez and the Cincinnati club were the victims of this in the raw incident which touched off the uproar in Brooklyn the other night.

Coming in as a relief worker, Sanchez had shut out the Dodgers for more than four innings. The first time up against Sanchez, Junior Gilliam dragged the ball down the first base line and bumped into and knocked down the pitcher and the ball out of his hand.

The next time Gilliam came to bat in the seventh inning, the second baseman bunted a foul fly down the first base line and rammed into Sanchez as he crossed the line attempting to catch the fly. The fight and the free-for-all ensued.

Sanchez and Gilliam were among several banished. So, Tom Aker walked Johnny Roseboro, batting for Gilliam, and Duke Snider hit the ball out of the park to win for the Braves.

"Gilliam should have been out for interference and thrown out for inciting a riot," argues Tebbetts, "and Sanchez should have been permitted to finish the fine job he was doing against the Brooklyn club."

"There are a lot of fellows who aren't above picking a fight to get rid of a tough pitcher," adds Fred Hutchinson. "Take the 1-0 game we lost to Johnny Antonelli of the Giants. I could have had a guy pick a fight with Antonelli."

"And if that's what it's going to come to . . . well, who's above something like that if it means a pennant?"

Baseball, it seems, is badly in need of a new way in which to score fights.

Bolt Trips Littler, Snead, Ford Enter Fourth Round Of PGA Tournament

By WILL GRIMSLEY

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Co-favorites Sam Snead and Doug Ford slammed into the fourth round of the PGA golf tournament Thursday but the loudest clap of thunder came from an explosive gentleman named Tommy Bolt.

Bolt fired a two-under-par 69 to eliminate Gene Littler in a morning match, 1 up, then turned his big guns on Eldon Briggs of Lansing, Mich., winning by the most one-sided margin of the tournament, 7 and 6.

The muscled, nut-brown pro from Los Angeles won six of the first nine holes from Briggs, five in succession, and closed out the match on the 12th. It was a quick comedown for the quiet, 44-year-old Michigan club professional, who had upset former National Open champion Jack Fleck in the second round.

Snead feasted on a pair of elderly gentlemen, beating 58-year-old Al Watrous of Birmingham, Mich., 4 and 3, and then conquering 47-year-old John Thoren of South Hampton, Mass., 3 and 2.

Ford, the grim-working Masters champion, erased Jim Quinpin of Lafayette, Ind., 4 and 3, and then beat Bob Gilda of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., 3 and 2.

Thursday's double eliminations, which saw the ouster of defending champion Jack Burke Jr., in the morning, reduced the field to 16 players. Two more 18-hole rounds Friday will slice the list to four for Saturday's 36-hole semifinals. The title round will be played Sunday.

Burke lost to skinny Milon Marquis of Webster Groves, Mo., 2 and 1, missing critical putts on the 16th and 17th holes. The one on No. 16 was of about 18 inches, so short Marquis started to concede it.

Marquis survived the third round also, beating long-hitting Mike Krak of Morgantown, W. Va., 2 and 1.

Other survivors included Dick Mayer of LaJolla, Calif., the National Open champion who continues winning matches in almost complete privacy; Walter Burkemo, the match play player from Franklin, Mich., who has been in three PGA finals in six years, winning in 1953; Mike Souchak, former Duke University football player; surprising Claude Harmon, the well-fed pro at Winged Foot in Mamaroneck, N.Y., and tournament tourists Henry Ransom, Ted Kroll, Lionel and Jay Hebert, the golfing brothers.

Bucs Score Four Times In 9th To Shade Cubs, 6-5

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates cashed in on one of their patented—but usually useless—ninth inning rallies Thursday by scoring four runs to squeak past the Chicago Cubs 6-5.

Trailing 5-2 as the frame began, the Bucs picked up a run on two singles and a sacrifice fly, added two more on a falk and Dick Groat's triple and won on Bill Mazeroski's single after intentional walks to Jim Pendleton, batting for Bill Virdon, and Frank Thomas had loaded the bases.

Ernie Banks and Chuck Tanner had replaced inside-the-park home runs earlier to enliven the Chicago second and eighth innings.

It looked as if the Cubs had the game wrapped up as they rolled into the last half inning with a 5-2 lead.

But pinchhitters Roman Mejias and Gene Freese rammed singles through the infield and Dee Fondy's fly counted the first run. Then Bob Skinner walked and Groat smashed a triple to tie the score.

The strategists went to work, with Dick Littlefield replacing Chicago's Turk Lown on the mound. Pendleton batted for Virdon, and was purposely passed. Jim Brown replaced Littlefield and deliberately walked. Thomas, then delivered the pitch that Mazeroski slammed over third base to win the game.

Score Workouts For 1st Time Since May 7

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland Indian pitcher Herb Score had his first workout Thursday in more than two months and said it "felt good" to be pitching again.

The 24-year-old southpaw had not had on a uniform since May 7, when he was hit in the right eye by a line drive off the bat of shortstop Gil McDougald in a night game here with the New York Yankees.

Score said the first few balls thrown back to him by bullpen catcher Bill Lobe looked fuzzy, but after that he was able to follow the ball well. He explained that he was looking with both eyes and not just with his good one.

After loosening up a bit, the young lefthander went to the regular pitching distance and threw medium hard pitches for five minutes.

Manager Kerby Farrell later handed him a bat and threw some fast balls. Score hit several of them into the outfield.

Score hopes to be able to resume his mound duties by the middle of next month.

Merchants Defeat Griggsville, 10-3

The Jacksonville Merchants ran their winning streak to 10 straight with a 10-3 victory over the Griggsville Nite Hawks. The Merchants did all their scoring in the first four innings and then were held in check by the fine relief pitching of Wade.

Bill Williams and Larry Scott divided the mound duties for the winners with Williams receiving credit for the victory. The two chuckers combined talents for 16 strikeouts and allowed 11 hits.

Bob Scott had three hits to lead the Merchants' attack while Yokem had three for the Hawks. The Merchants journey to Winchester for an I.R.V. League encounter.

Chisox Bow To Orioles In 9th Inning, 6-2, To Trail Yanks 5 Games

CHICAGO (AP)—The second-place Chicago White Sox, who make a practice of blowing games in the late innings, did it again Thursday.

The Baltimore Orioles unraveled lefty Jack Harshman in the ninth inning for five runs, two coming on Billy Goodman's bases-loaded pinch single, for a 6-2 triumph over the White Sox.

Harshman had scattered three hits up to the ninth and was sailing along smoothly on a 2-1 advantage fashioned on Walt Droppo's two-run homer in the third off-oriole starter Billy O'Dell.

It marked the sixth loss since July 4 suffered by the White Sox from enemy rallies in the eighth or ninth innings.

Harshman's troubles began in the ninth when catcher Les Moss dropped Gus Triandos' pop foul for an error. Triandos then belted a single and sent Bob Nieman, who had singled for Baltimore's fourth hit off Harshman, to third. George Kell's sacrifice fly scored Nieman to tie it at 2-2, but the Orioles parade had just begun.

Jim Busby singled and Al Pilarcik was nicked by a pitched ball, leading the bases. Goodman batted for Willie Miranda and singled home pinch runner Joe Durham and Busby.

That finished Harshman, who was replaced by Bill Fischer. Bill Gardner's single and walks to Bob Boyd and Nieman scored two more runs.

Relief Ace Bob Grim Puts Down Tiger Rally As Yanks Triumph, 3-2

DETROIT (AP)—Relief ace Bob Grim put down an eight-inning Detroit Tiger rally with a dazzling display of clutch pitching as a 3-2 New York Yankees gained a 3-2 come-from-behind triumph over the Detroit Tigers Thursday.

Yogi Berra and Hank Bauer delivered key hits in the Yankees' eighth inning when the defending world champions scored three times. The triumph, coupled with Chicago's 6-2 loss to Baltimore, enabled the Bombers to open up a five-game American League lead—their biggest of the season.

Grim took over in the eighth after the first two Tigers connected safely off Al Cicotte, the third Yankee pitcher. Al Kaline and Rene Bertoia worked a double steal to put runners on second and third with nobody out. But Grim persuaded Red Wilson to pop up, retired pinch hitter Dave Philley on a liner to third base and breezed a called third strike past Harvey Kuenn.

"I've played continuous in competition for four weeks," he added.

Bill Quillian, 23-year-old Army private from Seattle, on leave from Ft. Rucker, Ala., overpowered Fraser, 6-0 7-5.

"He made all the mistakes—just kept missing," said Quillian, seeded No. 6. "All I had to do was get my shots back to him. I knew his backhand was weak. Today it seemed even weaker, so I concentrated on that."

Top foreign seed in the women's division, Pilar Herrero of Havana, also was eliminated. Unseeded Pat Naud, San Mateo, Calif., disposed of the Cuban 6-1, 6-4.

No. 1 ranked Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., defeated David Harum of Coral Gables, Fla., 6-1, 9-7, and Vel Seixas of Philadelphia trounced William Ball, Waterloo, Iowa, 6-2, 6-3.

Bernard Barten of Dallas, No. 3, and Sam Giannalva of Houston, No. 4, breezed to straight set victories. Barten crushed Crawford Henry of Atlanta, 6-1, 6-0, and Giannalva ousted Henry Utley, Nixon, Ill., 6-2, 6-2.

The third seed in the men's foreign bracket Kosei Kamo of Japan downed No. 8, C. Maxwell Brown, Jr., of Louisville, 5-7, 6-4, 6-3.

Wimbledon champion Althea Gibson, had little trouble in smashing Donna Floyd of Arlington, Va., 6-1, 6-2 in women's singles. Darlene Hart of Montebello, Calif., Wimbledon finalist and second seeded, won another third round match from Gwyn Thomas of Shaker Heights, Ohio, 6-4, 2-6, 6-3.

Yankee Stadium was out, Stoneham said, because of the high rental—$600,000 a year—the Yankees reportedly have been asking. Stoneham, whose family controls 51 per cent of the Giants' stock, said he felt certain the board of directors would agree with him.

Stoneham said he had received definite propositions from two cities—San Francisco and Minneapolis—and intimated that the California metropolis was his first choice.

"If we can get a satisfactory deal from San Francisco," he said, "I will recommend to the board that we move there."

Asked what he thought would be a satisfactory deal, Stoneham replied: "Well, the last time we talked, they said they were prepared to build a new park and would be glad to consider a reasonable percentage rental based on attendance. To my way of thinking, that's the only possible way for a ball club to operate. If they still feel the same way, then we'll probably be in San Francisco in 1958."

San Francisco already has approved a five-million-dollar bond issue for a new ball park and has promised to make another five million dollars worth of improvements if the Giants agree to move to the city.

Roberts, star Philadelphia pitcher who is hurting from his worst season in baseball, was fined $50 Thursday and suspended for three days for his part in the whoop-toot in Wednesday night's game with the Milwaukee Braves at Connie Mack Stadium.

The ruckus started in the Phillies' half of the very first inning and lasted 18 minutes.

Roberts, who wasn't actually involved in the hotly disputed play, let fly at umpire Jojo Conlan, and had to be led back from pitching in with something more solid than invective.

Roberts was told of his punishment late Thursday in a telegram from National League President Warren Giles.

A Phillies spokesman said Roberts also had been fined $50. Roberts took it with a grin and a shrug.

"I guess I was taking my spite for having a bad season out on the umpire," Robbie said. "I called him a name. I was wrong."

Official Protest Filed Against Ashley Cooper

By JIM WHITEHEAD

CHICAGO (AP)—An official protest on the court behavior of Australia's No. 1 amateur tennis star, Ashley Cooper, was filed by the tournament committee Thursday after the recent Wimbledon finalist lost an argument-filled fourth round match in the National Clay Courts tennis tournament.

Cooper, as well as his Davis Cup teammate, Neale Fraser, was defeated in a day of upsets of foreign seeded stars.

Grant Golden of Wilmette, Ill., downed Cooper 4-6, 6-4, 6-2 as the Aussie let linesmen's calls and a heckling crowd nuzzle him into defeat.

It was clear by the third set that Cooper didn't appear to be trying to win. He kicked the ball over the fence; he muffed easy shots; he applauded for Golden's shots as well as his own.

Golden, No. 5 in the domestic seed, was elated over his victory. "I caught him on an off day—the guy let the crowd get him," said Golden.

"We both griped about bad calls by linesmen. I even had one linesman replaced and another removed. There were three bad calls in the first set. I was out there beating my brains out and he (the linesman) laughed when I complained. So I had him removed."

"But I was determined not to let it get me. I fought and Cooper got disgusted."

George E. Barnes, Chairman of the tournament committee, said he sent a telephone protest over Cooper's actions to the president of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Assn., Rensselaer McManis. This was followed up immediately by a written protest, said Dr. James K. Betty, official referee at the tournament.

Cooper refused comment on the calls by linesmen but said he was "mentally tired—tired of too much competitive tennis."

"I've played continuous in competition for four weeks," he added.

BEANS, OLD CROP CORN, OATS ADVANCE

By WILLARD ROBERTSON
CHICAGO (U) — Soybeans and old crop corn and oats advanced on the Board of Trade Thursday but most other prices showed little change.

July soybeans were strong throughout on covering by nervous shorts, but new crop deliveries lagged. However, new crop contracts advanced sharply in late trade on reports of crop damage in Illinois and Indiana.

New style wheat closed unchanged to 1/4 lower, corn 1/4 higher to 1/2 lower, rye unchanged to 1 cent higher, soybeans 1/4 to 3/4 higher, and lard 3 to 7 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Short covering has featured July beans, since there have been no deliveries on the July contract, in which trading will end Monday. However, there also has been a good demand and there was commercial buying Thursday.

New crop contracts have been relatively weak because of indications more beans will be planted than previously was indicated. However, there were reports of damage in main producing regions Thursday.

There were only narrow price movements in wheat and the market held its own fairly well despite excellent harvesting weather and hedge selling.

New York Stock Market

By ED MORSE
NEW YORK (U) — Steels, air-crafts and a few specialties improved in an otherwise sluggish and irregular stock market Thursday.

Among pivotal stocks the gains and losses were generally within a $2 range.

The market was mixed at the start. A spurt of buying near mid-session sent the industrials up for a respectable gain on balance although there were still plenty of losers.

As trading quieted, however, many of the better gains were trimmed. The erosion continued and some late selling was enough to put the statistics narrowly on the downside.

The general complexion of the market, however, was spotty. There were enough gains to encourage many on Wall Street and the losses were not sharp. Among market analysts there were those who said the failure to penetrate the all-time highs of 1956. It was the market's fourth straight day of correction after posting its latest 1957 high.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped 10 cents to $186.80 with the industrials down 30 cents, the rails down 70 cents and the utilities down 20 cents.

Volume totaled 2,130,000 shares compared with 2,060,000 Wednesday.

Prices were mixed on the American stock exchange. Volume totaled 1,170,000 shares compared with 1,040,000 Wednesday.

BOMBING IS A JUGGLING ACT NOWADAYS

Future wars will be fought with nuclear bombs—and when a pilot drops one of those babies, he has to scam—quick! World War II's dive bombing is out. So new techniques have been devised and Air Force fighter-bomber wings are working to perfect them in the North African desert, about 100 miles from our big Strategic Air Command base at Wheelus in Libya. There are four new refinements of dive bombing—high and low altitude toss-bombing, skip bombing and over-the-shoulder bombing. How each works is diagrammed in sketches below.

Of the four new bombing techniques, high altitude toss-bombing (left) comes nearest to the old dive-bombing. The pilot dives his plane and releases the bomb at pull-out point. The bomb is thus "tossed" several miles to its intended target. The pilot makes a fast climb and is safely away by the time the bomb explodes. The low-altitude toss run (right) is similar, but in reverse. The fighter comes in at tree-top level then abruptly pulls up, releasing the bomb. As it speeds ahead to its target, the pilot has reversed his course, and is headed for home.

In skip-bombing (left) the bomb is released while the plane is traveling at supersonic speed and travels a considerable distance before coming to earth. In the meantime, the pilot makes a fast climb out of danger. Most difficult of the new techniques is "over-the-shoulder" (right). Fighter bombers come in low, then go into a complicated Immelman turn. The bomb is released as they make their final turn. It is propelled upward several thousand feet, then loses momentum and plummets earthward. By that time, if all goes well, the plane is far away.

Sure Girard Will Have Fair Trial: Japanese Lawyer

TOKYO (U) — William S. Girard's Japanese lawyer said today he is "confident Girard will get a fair and just trial."

The 21-year-old Illinois soldier will appear in Maebashi district court next month to face a charge of "inflicting bodily injury resulting in the death" of Mrs. Naka Sakai, 46, Japanese scrap collector who was killed on a U. S. Army firing range Jan. 30.

Isuro Hayashi, Japanese attorney hired by Girard, said "I will do everything possible to protect every right of the American soldier that is guaranteed by American as well as Japanese law."

Hayashi was writing in the English language Japan Times as a guest columnist. His column read: "The public trial of the controversial Girard case will get underway at the Maebashi district court late next month. I hope to have the hearings brought to an end by the end of October.

"I will do my best to help find out the exact facts of the case devoid of any overtones. I will buckle down to preparations for the public hearings about the end of this week.

"I will fulfill my duties to the best of my ability so that the court will render a judgment that could convince the Japanese, the Americans and peoples of all other countries.

"I have devoted 40 years to my work as an attorney in criminal cases. Never before have I been involved in politics or the affairs of political parties.

"I am determined to handle the present case from no other standpoint than that of a fair, disinterested lawyer.

"I have acquired some knowledge of American law and psychology, as I took part in the international trial of Japanese war criminals by the military tribunal for the Far East, and several cases wherein American soldiers stood trial before Japanese courts. In the forthcoming public hearings, I will put this knowledge to full use.

"Fortunately, I can expect advice from such top-notch legal experts as Brig. Gen. Charles L. Decker, the U. S. Army's assistant judge advocate general; and Maj. Stanley P. Levin (Girard's Army legal adviser)."

B. T. Mattingly Dies; Power In Missouri Politics

ST. LOUIS (U) — Barak T. Mattingly long a power in Missouri Republican circles, died Thursday at DePaul Hospital after suffering a heart seizure at his home here.

Mattingly, 56-year-old former Republican national committee man from Missouri, was considered a behind-the-scenes leader of one of the factions in the bitter intra-party GOP feud that has split the party's ranks in Missouri for the past several years.

Mattingly also was a member of the so-called "Commodore hotel" group which helped induce Dwight D. Eisenhower to become a candidate for the presidency in 1952.

Although he had held no party office in recent years and was never a candidate for public office, the controversial Mattingly was widely regarded as the dominant Republican leader in the state.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Melba Schmidt Mattingly, and his mother, Mrs. Hallie Mattingly.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Scottish Rite Cathedral here.

COFFEE BREAK SWITCH

LAKELAND, Fla. (U) — The rest of the country may urge weary motorists to stop for a coffee break, but in Florida it's got to be orange juice.

In a drive to curb accidents, the Florida Highway Patrol has been placing on automobiles stickers which read: "For safety's sake slow down and live. Stop for a coffee break."

This plugging of coffee aroused the ire of R. V. Phillips, a leading citrus man. He protested to the Florida Citrus Commission which carried the complaint to the patrol.

From now on the stickers will read: "Stop. Never drive while tired. Refresh with orange juice."

Union Official Promises To Back Cleanup Campaign

WASHINGTON (U) — The secretary of the United Textile Workers, accused of using union funds to finance a swank home, promised Senate racketeers Thursday to back a cleanup campaign in the union.

Lloyd Klenert, UTW secretary-treasurer since 1944, testified he would work for elimination of the practice of lending union funds to union officers, employees and staff members on any terms. He said he expects the matter of reforms to come up soon at a meeting of the UTW Executive Board.

The promise followed considerable prodding by members of the special Senate committee looking into alleged labor-management abuses.

The promise also followed testimony of committee investigator Alphonse Calabrese that $57,000 of union dues applied to the purchase of homes for Klenert and UTW president Anthony Valente was put down in union books as "organizing expenses." The homes are in a Washington suburb. Klenert's cost $52,500 and Valente's cost $42,500.

Klenert wasn't asked whether the $57,000 represented misuse of union funds, whether it was a union loan, or whether he actually got part of it. He did say he borrowed $1,000 from the union to clinch the deal on his house.

Rep. J. L. Bowler Dies: Democrat From Chicago

CHICAGO (U) — Rep. James B. Bowler, 82, Democratic congressman from Chicago since 1953 and a member of the Chicago City Council for 43 years, died Thursday.

Bowler had been in declining health since suffering a heart attack several years ago. He was unable to attend any sessions of the present Congress.

Bowler's seat in the House of Representatives will not be filled until the 1958 congressional election unless Gov. Stratton calls a special election.

Bowler was first elected from the 7th Illinois District in a special election July 7, 1953, on the death of Rep. Adolph J. Sabath. He was re-elected in 1954 and 1956.

Bowler was an alderman from the 19th and 25th wards in Chicago for 43 years.

He is survived by the widow, Anastasia, and two sisters, Mrs. Lillian Rafite and Mrs. Agnes Shea, of Chicago.

Johnstone Beats Out Porter In Women's Western

By L. E. SKELLEY
OMAHA (U) — Ann Casey Johnstone, 34-year-old Mason City, Iowa, mother, joked medalist Barbara Romack Porter with a sub-par finish for 2 up victory over the California blonde Thursday in the third round of the Women's Western Amateur Golf Tournament.

Mrs. Johnstone, a semifinalist in the 1956 national amateur, won the 17th and 18th holes to avenge an 8 and 7 loss to the Sacramento girl in the semifinals of the St. Augustine Tournament last winter.

Mrs. Porter, the 1954 National Amateur champion went into a late talisman and her opponent was quick to grab her opportunities.

The 24-year-old California girl flubbed a three-foot putt at 16 to miss taking a 1-up lead. She went one down at 17 when Mrs. Johnstone got a par four and that for all practical purposes was the match.

Ann finished with a 1-under-par 36 for a 74. Barbara had 36-40 for 76.

Ann Richardson, 21, Columbus, Ohio, shot into a semifinal match with Mrs. Johnstone with a 2-up victory over Mary Ann Downey, 31, of Baltimore, twice a runner-up in the Western.

Polly Riley of Ft. Worth, Tex., twice the Western winner, and Meriam Bailey of Palatine, Ill., the 20-year-old National College champion, entered the other semifinal contest.

Miss Riley eliminated 17-year-old Mary Mills of Ocean Springs, Miss., 3 and 2, and Miss Bailey stopped Andrea (Andy) Cohn of Waterloo, Iowa, 17-year-old state junior champion, 3 and 1.

The semifinals will be played Friday afternoon.

TRANSFER TO BRING 2,400 TO SCOTT AIR FORCE BASE

WASHINGTON (U) — Some 2,400 airmen and civilians will move to Scott Air Force Base near Belleville, Ill., in a transfer of their headquarters from Washington, the Air Force announced Wednesday.

The Air Force said the group will staff headquarters of the Military Air Transport Service, being moved to Scott.

More than 500 officers, airmen and civilians will leave Scott in the second part of the transfer beginning Monday. This group is part of the Air Training Command headquarters, being transferred from Scott to Randolph Air Force Base near San Antonio, Tex.

Committees Okay Pay Boost For Federal Workers

WASHINGTON (U) — House and Senate committees both approved multimillion-dollar pay raise bills for federal workers Thursday despite an administration protest that this would feed inflation.

Pressure for the politically popular measures built up with:

1. A House Post Office and Civil Service Committee's approval, 14-10, of an 11 per cent increase in the salaries of some one million federal employees covered by civil service. The bill would cost an estimated $32 million dollars a year.
2. A Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee's approval of a 7 1/2 per cent across-the-board increase for the civil servants, at a cost of 348 million dollars a year.
3. The Senate committee's okay of a 7 1/2 per cent pay increase, plus some upward cost-of-living adjustments, for half a million postal workers. The expense was figured at 270 million dollars a year.

Postal pay bills also fared well in the House. One which would cost a billion dollars has piled up so many congressional signatures it can be called up for House action any time after next Monday without Rules Committee approval.

Another measure, previously approved by the House Post Office Committee, would step up postal by some 121 per cent at a cost of some 350 million dollars a year.

Pair Of Magazine Peddlers Found In Home

Two young men, magazine peddlers, were released from the city jail Wednesday evening when their crew manager came from Springfield for them. Both were apprehended by Lt. Stout and Officer Wilson Wednesday morning in the house of D. C. Diltz, 502 S. Prairie street.

Diltz was away at the time and had left his front door unlocked. Neighbors knew he was away and they telephoned police when they saw the two peddlers walk into the house.

Apparently they had not picked up anything and they told police that they were "just waiting for somebody to show up." They were taken to the city jail, and held until the crew manager who had dumped them off here Wednesday morning came after them.

They were 17 and 20 years old. The elder said he was from Topeka, Kans., and the other one said he was from the state of Virginia. Later he said his home was Henrickson, Va. The U.S. postal guide does not list such a town.

Police emphasized that "summer is the season for magazine peddlers. Homeowners should lock their homes when they leave and should never let a stranger into the house."

Miss Whiteside Suffers Broken Wrist Thursday

Fifty-nine-year-old Miss Minnie Whiteside of 1328 South East St. was treated at Our Saviour's Hospital Thursday for a broken wrist as the result of an accident which occurred on South East St., near the Brooklyn Methodist Church.

Involved in the accident were Miss Whiteside, a pedestrian, and Gary Braner, son of Mrs. Jewell C. Braner, 415 South East St., who was riding a bicycle.

According to the Braner boy, the accident occurred as he attempted to ride between a parked car and Miss Whiteside, who was waiting for the traffic to clear so that she could cross the street.

Treasury Offers 4% Interest On U.S. Securities

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasury offered Thursday a 4 per cent interest rate—highest since the deep depression years—for a 24-billion-dollar offering of government securities.

The exchange offer followed a consultation Wednesday by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and his soon-to-be successor, Robert B. Anderson, with President Eisenhower.

To holders of several securities maturing Aug. 1, Aug. 15 and Oct. 1 Humphrey offered a choice of these issues:

A 4 per cent one-year treasury certificate of indebtedness;

A 3 per cent certificate maturing in four months, on Dec. 1; or

A 4 per cent Treasury note maturing in four years but cashable if the holder desires in two years—on Aug. 1, 1939.

A Treasury spokesman, in response to questions on the high interest rates offered in comparison with those on the maturing securities, told newsmen: "These are the lowest rates at which we thought we could sell government securities of these maturities."

The maturing securities include a $12,000,000 issue of one-year Treasury notes carrying 2 1/2 per cent; a $3,782,000 issue of two and one-half year notes maturing Aug. 15 and carrying 2 per cent; a $7,271,000 issue of 10-month certificates maturing Oct. 1 and carrying 3 1/2 per cent interest; and an $24-million-dollar issue of notes maturing Oct. 1 and carrying 1 1/2 per cent interest.

Find No Evidence South Illinois Electric Too High

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A legislative committee has reported it found no evidence electric rates in southern Illinois were too high or that they discouraged new industry from locating in that area.

The committee conducted its investigation while the Legislature was in session but its complete report is not yet available.

The report said neither Central Illinois Public Service nor Illinois Power Co. was receiving a return in excess of that found to be reasonable by the Illinois Commerce Commission three years ago.

A comparison of typical bills, the committee said, showed that rates of the two companies were "neither the highest nor the lowest" in relation to similar bills of other electric companies in Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, Kentucky and Iowa.

"No evidence has been offered or found in the investigation that the cost of electricity and power was the determining factor in causing any business or industry to cease operation in the area," the committee said.

"There was no specific evidence submitted that the cost of electricity and power is responsible for impeding the economic growth and development of southern Illinois," the committee said.

Plattsburgh, N. Y. (AP)—An Air Force refueling plane carrying a crew of eight crashed in flames into Lake Champlain Thursday night three minutes after takeoff from Plattsburgh Air Force Base.

Three of the men were reported safe. One was pulled from the water and two parachuted to the New York shore of the lake.

There was no immediate word on the other five.

However, there was an unconfirmed report that two others might have been rescued by the Coast Guard.

The Plattsburgh Air Base reported that two of the four engines of the KC97 failed on takeoff. The plane went into the lake 15 miles south of Plattsburgh off the village of Port Kent.

Witnesses said they heard a series of explosions.

The plane crew was attached to the 380th Air Refueling Squadron stationed at Plattsburgh.

The three men rescued were released after treatment at the base hospital. The Air Force said they suffered only minor abrasions.

The two who parachuted were M. Sgt. Chester A. Kazminski, 32, flight engineer, Chicago, and Lt. Eli S. Radanovich, 38, radio operator, South Bend, Ind. They landed near the base, about six miles south of the city.

M. Sgt. John F. Morgan, 34, flight engineer, Garfield, N. M., was rescued from the water by Charles Finley of Keeseeville, who was boating on the lake.

Defendant Halts Trial, Pleads Guilty, Sentenced

JERSEYVILLE—Late Tuesday afternoon, following a two day session of the Circuit Court of Jersey county, the trial of the People of the State of Illinois vs. James (Jimmy) Dierking, charged in five indictments with burglary and larceny, was halted, and the defendant entered a plea of guilty before Judge Sam Smith.

A sentence of three to seven years was imposed by Judge Smith in each of the five indictments, the penalties to run concurrently.

The indictments against Dierking included the burglarizing of the residence of Frank Pereboom in this city on two occasions; the Munsterman Service Station in western Jersey county; the West End Tavern and the Schlotz Implement Company.

The major portion of the loot taken from the Pereboom residence was recovered the evening of April 12 following issuance of a search warrant for the premises where Dierking resided. Much of the stolen property consisted of clothing belonging to Frank Pereboom. At the time of the burglaries, the Pereboom family members, were spending the winter in Florida.

Nine Persons Involved

Dierking's case is the last of a series of nine local persons arrested on charges of burglary and larceny during April and May. The locality had been plagued for the past year with a series of break-ins. The local police obtained a break which eventually led to the solution of some 21 robberies in this city and county when they apprehended two youths, 16 and 15 years of age in the act of burglarizing the Seago Grocery in the West Carpenter street vicinity.

Statements given led to other arrests and the situation snowballed until at least nine were arrested on charges of burglary and larceny. All the defendants have been disposed of either in the county or circuit courts since their apprehending. Dierking was the only one to demand and receive a preliminary hearing, indictment by the grand jury and trial by jury in the circuit court.

Upon representation that he was without counsel and unable to employ same, the court appointed Attorney Howard Lee White of this city to defend him.

The cause was called for trial Monday morning by Judge Sam Smith. The venire of jurors was exhausted late Monday afternoon and a special venire drawn and served by the local sheriff and deputy Monday evening.

Completion of the selection of a jury was accomplished early Tuesday morning, and the taking of testimony for the prosecution got under way. Before completion of the State's evidence Tuesday afternoon, the trial was halted at request of the defense, and a plea of guilty was entered by Dierking to the indictment being tried and others pending against him.

RED BUD CITIZENS FLEE SPREADING AMMONIA FUMES

RED BUD, Ill. (AP)—A wave of ammonia fumes swept over this town of 2,000 early Thursday but a fast-acting mayor aided by firemen and police got the threatened areas evacuated safely.

About three-fourths of the populace fled from their homes after they were roused by the town's fire alarm or by police and firemen who ran from door to door warning residents to seek higher ground.

Mayor Elmer Schuchmann ordered the alarm sounded for 10 minutes after he was notified of the leaking gas shortly after 5 a.m.

Then he manned the central telephone switchboard and advised residents inquiring about the alarm to seek the safety of higher ground.

"Everybody was calm," the mayor said. "There were no accidents."

About 25 persons became ill but none was hospitalized. The vegetation turned dark in the affected area.

The gas — anhydrous ammonia — from a fertilizer plant escaped when a hose line broke at a plant on the northern outskirts of Red Bud, in Randolph County 35 miles southeast of St. Louis.

Clude Simpson, owner of the plant, was transferring the ammonia from one storage tank to another when the line broke. He donned a gas mask and shut off the flow of fumes but a large amount of the chemical had escaped.

The fumes dissipated after about two hours, and the residents returned to their homes.

Grass, trees and other vegetation in the affected area turned dark, as did the paint on some white houses.

'Remember Me As Soldier At Heart' Says Suicide Note

CHICAGO (AP)—An Army major who said in a suicide note that his constant drinking was disgracing his uniform was found shot to death in his hotel room Wednesday night.

"Forgive me and remember me as a soldier at heart," wrote Maj. Carl I. Arnold, 36, an operations and training officer at 3th Army headquarters. Military police discovered his body in the Chancellor Hotel, a pistol clutched in his hand, when he failed to report for duty.

He said in the six-page letter he termed a suicide note that his "constant drinking" kept him from performing his duties.

"Not only here at Fifth Army but at other places," the note read. "You see lately I have been disgracing the uniform and when a man does that he is no good to the army or himself or anyone else."

A native of Knoxville, Tenn., Arnold was a 16-year veteran. He returned from a tour of duty in Korea four months ago. He leaves a wife, Bernadine of suburban Berwyn and a son, Carlton.

Arnold also wrote that he was a friend of Harvey Haddix, star pitcher for the Philadelphia Phillies, and told friends to tell Haddix "to win 20 games for me." Haddix is a native of Nashville, Tenn.

The major requested his body be buried in Knoxville" in my blue uniform even though it is summertime."

Panel Discussion

A panel discussion on educational, health, and welfare services for handicapped children is led, above, by Miss Jane Bull (standing), executive director of the Illinois Commission for Handicapped Children. Other panel members, at Miss Bull's right, are: Miss Margaret Ryan, chief, Medical Social Service, Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, Peoria; Mrs. Mildred Withey, educational director, Mental Health Society, Springfield; and Miss Lela Car, (partially hidden behind podium), assistant superintendent of the Division of Welfare, Springfield.

A student, Mrs. Lela Fairfield of Jacksonville, is shown at right. She was among students from the Jacksonville area enrolled in a six-week special education symposium featuring, in addition to the above panel discussion, guest speakers lecturing on physical and mental problems of handicapped children.

The panel emphasized the importance of early recommendation, by parents, teachers and school and social counselors, for service from the various educational, health and welfare agencies, in regard to handicapped children. Miss Bull, in a lecture prior to the panel, described these agencies, with emphasis on their location and the procedure to follow in channeling referrals to them.

The nearest such agency to Jacksonville is the mental health clinic in Springfield.

Alexander 4-H Club Has Local Achievement Day

ALEXANDER—The Alexander Girls 4-H club held annual Local Achievement Day on July 9 at the home of Connie Bergschneider. The meeting was called to order with the 4H pledge.

Introduction of the 4H members and Home Bureau was made. Roll call was to tell what each had made in projects. Minutes were read and approved and business disposed of.

Gladys Smith gave a report on the Federation meeting she attended. Ruth A. Smith gave a demonstration on how to cut a cake. Eda Johnson and Marie Johnson demonstrated how to pop popcorn in an electric popper. They also baked a peach upside down cake in the electric pan.

After the program refreshments were served and garments were modeled. The county achievement dates are July 26 and 28.

WSCS News

MEREDOSIA—Thursday afternoon the Methodist Women's Society for Christian Service met at the church parsonage. Mrs. Emory Kaufman and Mrs. Harvey Dawson, Sr., were the hostesses.

Mrs. Kaufmann led the devotion—meditation, a poem, Scripture from Jeremiah and Corinthians—and ended with a prayer. The program leader was Mrs. Chel

Young, assisted by Mrs. Harold Deibert and Mrs. James Major. Their topic was "Strangers Within the Gate."

The president, Mrs. Joseph Schneider, conducted the business session. After routine business was disposed of, a letter was read from Mrs. William H. Kaeser, secretary of supply work of the Jacksonville district. The letter asked for donations for Marcy Center and for Kansas Junior College at Nagasaki. Members voted to accept the requests.

Hostesses for the August meeting will be Mrs. Carl Breckon and Mrs. Chel Young; the lesson leader, Mrs. Charles Schmitt. Flower and music committee members are Mrs. Robert Lansink, Mrs. Charles Metz, Mrs. Earl Gregory, Mrs. Laura Moultray and Mrs. Mary Stark.

The meeting adjourned after light refreshments served by the hostesses.

Beef Bargains Scarce, Other Good Buys

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bargains in beef are scarce this week, but housewives can find good buys elsewhere in the meat department.

Here are a few for the coming week: Skinned frankfurters for the outdoor barbecue, chickens for frying or broiling, smoked picnic hams, roasted turkeys.

Some supermarket chains are featuring lamb shoulder chops and a few have posted lower prices for roast leg of lamb.

About the only good buy in beef is boneless chuck pot roast. The choicer cuts range from 4 to 12 cents a pound higher in many of the larger cities. Market analysts say there's only one way beef prices can go for the next few weeks—up! Choice beef on the hoof brings about $25.50 a hundred pounds in Chicago, $4 more than a year ago, and it's likely to go higher still.

Egg prices are going up by leaps and bounds. Large white grade A eggs are up as much as six cents a dozen in some cities and medium-size whites as much as eight cents a dozen.

One reason for the increase: most of the eggs sold in grocery stores and supermarkets today are of top quality, and it is these high grade eggs that are most seriously affected by hot weather. Besides discouraging the hens, heat causes eggs to deteriorate faster. Lower grade eggs which are used by commercial bakeries are plentiful and cheap, but the better grades are somewhat less abundant now.

Budget items on the produce counter include bunched radishes, scallions, white turnips, cut or bunched beets, and potatoes.

Long white potatoes from California are classed as excellent buys, along with celery, cabbage, green or yellow squash, and tomatoes.

Best buys in the fruit department include grapefruit, oranges, lemons, limes and berries.

Soldier Learns Cable Splicing

FORT GORDON, Ga. (AHTNC)—Pvt. Russell E. Cooper, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Monroe, 127 W. Lorton street, Roodhouse, Ill., recently completed the cable splicing course at the Army's Southeastern Signal School, Fort Gordon, Ga.

The 13-week course trained Cooper to install and maintain all types of cables, both above and below the ground.

Cooper entered the Army in January 1957 and completed basic training at Fort Carson, Colo. He was graduated from Roodhouse Community High school in 1955.

PORTABLE HOSPITALS

NEW YORK (AP)—The Federal Civil Defense Administration plans stockpiling fully equipped portable hospitals.

By 1962, a total of 6,000 such units may be available to provide emergency aid to as many as 2.5 million victims in the event of a major natural disaster or an enemy air attack.

These van-transported emergency hospitals, equipped to handle 200 bed patients at a time, are being distributed throughout the U.S.

Steelways, official publication of American Iron and Steel Institute, said that the portable facilities and supplies can turn a pre-selected empty school or church into a hospital within four hours, complete with its own water, power and light, three operating rooms, an X-ray room, a sterilizing room, a reception and sorting room, laboratory, a pharmacy and medical needs sufficient to last 36 to 48 hours.

$2,215 HANDSHAKE

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—When Willie Hartack rode Iron Leige, Kentucky Derby winner, to victory in the Jersey Stakes at Garden State Park, Jockey Ovie Surluck waited outside the Winner's circle.

Scurlock rode Barbizon, he also ran part of the Calumet Farm entry, but as is the rule when part of a stable wins a race, the riders split 10 per cent of the money won. In this case, Scurlock gave Hartack a $2,215 handshake. That's the amount each jockey got when Calumet added $44,300 to its earnings.

PUSH-BUTTON FISHING
GASPARILLA ISLAND, Fla. (AP) Push-button deep-sea fishing is here.

It's done with the aid of a storage battery-powered winch originally designed to hoist 3,000-pound boats from water to trailer.

Former speed boat water skiers Duchy Burgoon, Bob Cousins and Tram Prickett devised a special rig for threading the heavy line through the pole to the winch. The outfit is attached to the rear of an outboard motor cruiser and fishing is done by trolling.

The electronic fishing gear is powered by a 6 or 12 volt battery. One finger controls the switch and brake.

Although the powered reel would enable women to enjoy deep-sea fishing as a thrilling sport, the designers expect it will be used by paraplegics who seek the outdoors.

The winch is the product of a West Hartford, Conn., firm.

The maker says the powered winch uses less electric juice than car lights.

CUT DOWN TO BOY SIZE—James Benjamin Malone III must have gotten tired of being called "that darling little girl." At any rate with the help of his parents, two-year-old Jimmy visited an Atlanta, Ga., barbershop to have those long, curly tresses cut down to boy size. The camera followed Jimmy through the transformation. At left he certainly makes a pretty "girl." Center, some place between "girl" and boy. At right, all boy.

Donates $1,000 To Passavant Nursing School

At the July 15th meeting of the Board of Trustees of Passavant Memorial Area Hospital, a $1,000 donation to the School of Nursing Building Fund was received from the estate of Edgar Martin, architect. This gift was presented for Mrs. Martin, who resides in Evanston, Ill., by Mr. Milton Range, past president and former member of the Board of Trustees.

Mr. Range told of Mrs. Martin's special interest in Passavant Hospital, which was the last architectural project undertaken by her husband, who died in 1951 while the hospital building was under construction.

Accepting Mrs. Martin's gift in behalf of the Board of Trustees, Mr. B. M. Montee, president, expressed appreciation for this addition to the School of Nursing Building Fund, and for the previous gifts from the estate of Edgar Martin.

The School of Nursing building project is now in the planning stage. It is expected that preliminary plans will be presented by the architects in the near future. Administrator Ralph Bersell also announced at this meeting that the Passavant Aid Society had purchased a room air-conditioner for the Emergency Operating Room. He said that emergency procedures which formerly had to be done in the air conditioned major surgery rooms during extreme hot weather were now being handled in the emergency room and that patients, as well as doctors and nurses, had expressed appreciation for the new unit.

CANDID LOOK—Diaper sagging precariously, this youngster and his parents seem to be oblivious to impending crisis as they mount a hill to witness the local Tallahassee, Fla., soap box derby. This is truly a candid photograph, so the little family is not identified.

In acknowledging this gift, Board President Montee praised the work of the Passavant Aid Society, "which always seems to be one jump ahead of everyone in meeting the needs of the hospital."

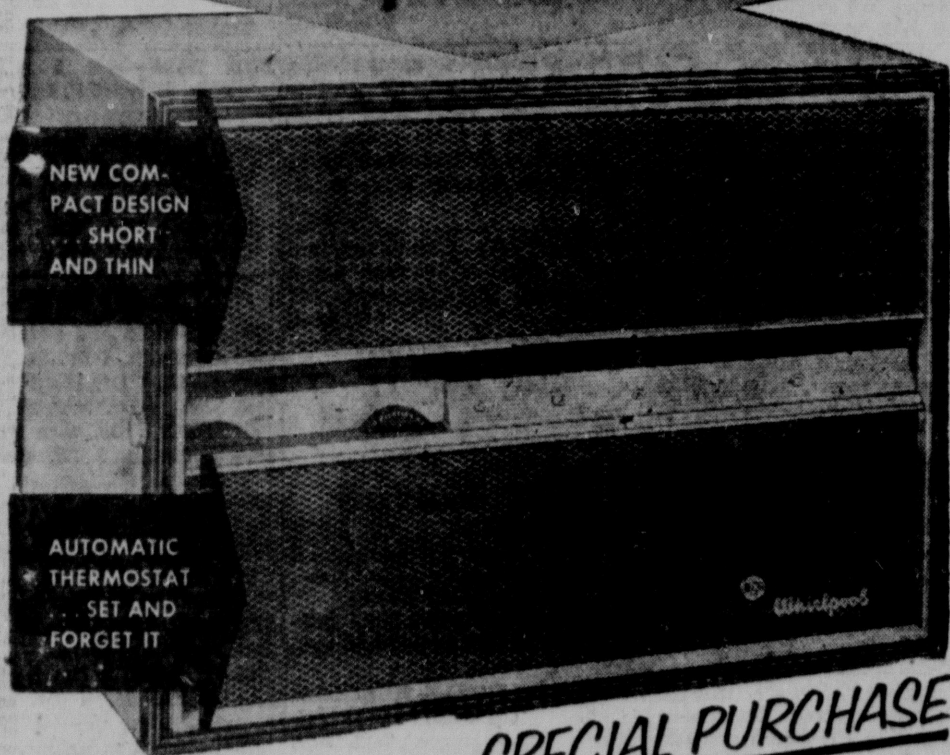

The population of the Federation of Malaya is estimated at 6,250,000 people. It is one of the world's most productive centers of tin.

CITY GOT STUCK
DETROIT (AP) Chewing gum apparently isn't the answer to the financial problems of the Detroit Street Railway. Gum machines installed on 15 city buses dispensed only 9,830 sticks of gum at a penny a stick in a five-week trial. The city's cut was $14.75.

SOLVES TRAFFIC PROBLEM—When Leland Bryan of Highland, Mich., gets tired of bucking highway traffic he takes off—literally. Bryan invented the "autoplane," seen at top. The same craft, bottom, takes to the highway with equal ease after its wings are folded. It does 90 m.p.h. in the air and 60 on the ground.

THE STORY OF MARTHA WAYNE

STEVE CANYON

CARNIVAL

"Trouble with this country is surpluses—food—hard goods—people who know how to run this department!"

By AL VERMEER

By WILSON SCRUGGS

By MILTON CANIFF

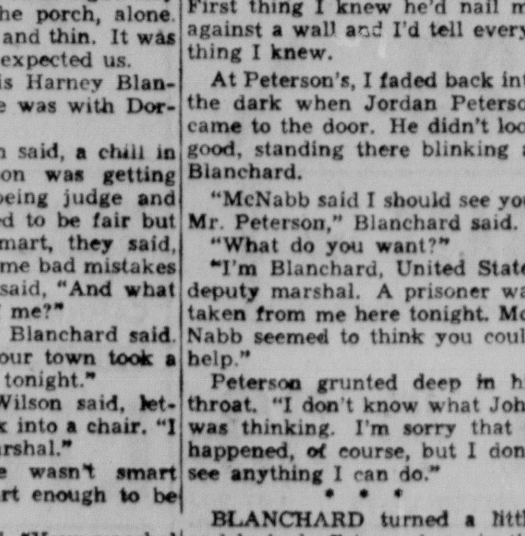

By Dick Turner

By Galbraith

STAMPEDE AT BLUE SPRINGS

BY GENE OLSON

THE STORY: Friends of Barney Jethroe, who was killed some years ago, have kidnapped the man responsible for his death from Harney Blanchard, a federal marshal. The only person who offers to help Blanchard is Pike Ambrose, a 37-year-old boy who works in a stable, and he is not sure he can help.

III

ROY WILSON'S little place on Missouri St. showed no light. Roy was sitting on the porch, alone. He stood up, tall and thin. It was almost like he'd expected us.

I said, "This is Harney Blanchard, judge. He was with Dorsey tonight."

"I see," Wilson said, a chill in his voice. Wilson was getting old. He liked being judge and they said he tried to be fair but he wasn't too smart, they said, and had made some bad mistakes in his time. He said, "And what is it you want of me?"

"Information," Blanchard said. "Somebody in your town took a federal prisoner tonight."

"So," Judge Wilson said, letting himself back into a chair. "I wasn't there, marshal."

Wilson maybe wasn't smart but he was smart enough to be scared.

Blanchard said, "Your marshal quit. Nobody's been appointed since. That gives you responsibility, judge."

"It doesn't look like that to me," Wilson said, snapping it out. "My job is to dispose of cases brought before me. I can't apprehend, too."

Blanchard said, "Will you tell me anything about what happened?"

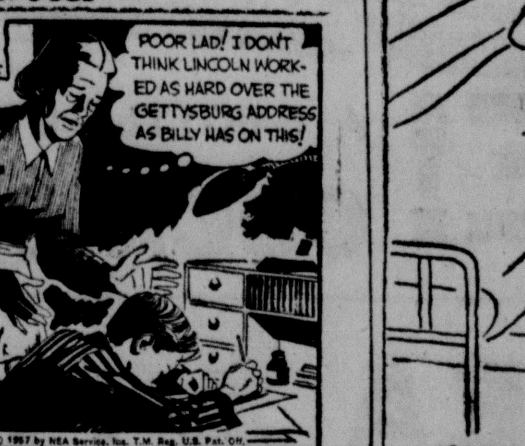

Wilson took out his pipe and rapped it on the step. Wilson said, "It appears, marshal, that you would know more about it than anybody else."

Blanchard stood staring at Wilson for a long time. Then he turned and stepped past me into the delivery end. Sue, a 20-year-old junior at North Carolina U., got her unusual summer job merely by applying at the Man-hasset Post Office. We'll bet the six-foot lovely is one postman who needn't ring twice.

"I'm writing home for extra money. How would you sign it—'desperately' or 'frantically'?"

By Nadine Seitzer

"That's a pretty awful color! It clashes with the 'chocolate'!"

LOOKING for a HOME?

Stop it — A home is looking for a good owner who appreciates the best in a home — it is a finished home, inside and out you watched it under construction, saw the owners creating a setting — lawn, shrubs, flowers, admired it, passed it often, and never dreamed you might ever own it.

But conditions change, it is now available. Your only question should be, when can we see it? You say when — be first.

Miss Sunderland
Entertains MYF
At Murrayville

MURRAYVILLE — The Senior M. Y. F. of the Methodist Church were entertained Sunday by Miss Charlotte Sunderland on the lawn at her home.

The afternoon was spent playing games, followed by a hamburger fry and potluck supper in the evening.
